New Orleans, October 5 .- After two days of improvement and of promise the fever situation, on the face of the record took somewhat of a turn today. For forty hours there had been no death and yesterday, the number of new cases had shown material falling off from the day before.

Early this morning, however, the reports of new cases began to come into the board of health office with considerable rapidity and by 1 o'clock there had been fifteen cases and by 7 o'clock tonight all previous records of this season had been broken, so far as new cases were concerned, with prospects that others would come.

In a few hours three deaths had also been reported to the board.

The physicians were not at a loss to explain the increase in cases. They took practically the position explained in the Asociated Press reports last night and said it might be expected that numerous cases would still continue daily to be reported. Dr. Olliphant said tonight:

Olliphant Not Discouraged.

Olliphant Not Discouraged.

"The stern enforcement of the law requiring all physicians to report promptly both suspicious and actual cases of yellow fever has had a material effect in increasing the number of cases. I am not prepared to say that we are less careful than we have been heretofore but now that we have recognized that yellow fever exists in New Orelans we are prepared to accept the diagnosis of any reputable physician called in to attend a case. Perhaps occasionally a dector makes an error. I have known instances where eminent practitioners have asked me to have a fing taken down after they had declared a case yellow fever; but as a rule the numerical increase of cases is due to the fact that we have so organized our forces that the corps of the board of health is now so large and the activity of the public so much excited that few if any cases are escaping attention and prompt report.

"No, the board has by no means lost control of the situation. The cases, as a rule, are mild. They are being given strict attention. The foct are increasing but slowly. The disease is not spreading to any material extent and a large number of cases are being discharged daily. An epidemic is absolutely out of the question. New Orleans is today not by any means unhealther than it has been for several years. The prevailing fever has caused, in several weeks, not forty deaths."

Where Cases Are Found.

One of the new cases was reported from the Charity hospital. Henry Boorman had been found ill for two days on Lafayette He was having little care and his friends removed him to the Charity hos suffering with yellow fever and he was immediately removed to the isolation Four cases were reported in the Touro infirmary. Otherwise, the hospitals did not have occasion to report additional ms from the fever infection. In a number of instances the new cases nelude patients in houses already infectse on Conti street, a crowded neigh-hood, but the officials took prompt steps to prevent a spread of the disease placed additional guards until it could be arranged to remove the sick.

From infected houses a number of people were removed to the detention camp and the authorities were notified this evening that if there should be further demand upon the accommodations of the camp tents would have to be asked for

NEW ORLEANS JOURNALISTS ASK FOR A SENSIBLE QUARANTINE

The Press Club of the Crescent City Pleads for the Establishment of Proper and Scientific Regulations Regarding the Fever.

New Orleans, La., October 5. (Special.)-To Our Fellow Tollers of the Press in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Texas, from the New Orleans Press Club-

It is the sense of this body, whose active membership is responsible for the accuracy of the local news of the daily press of New Orleans, and that sense is hereby expressed by the club in special meeting assembled, that to you, co-workers and brethren, be submitted by us the following facts and suggestions:

First, That with absolute fidelity and truth all news relative to the present visitation of yellow fever here has been reported by us of the active profession to our employing newspapers and have by them without curtailment, coloring or al-

Second, That the New Orleans newspapers have consequently told the facts, and all the facts, with a fidelity which has been everywhere admitted and in some places criticised as opposed to the city's best interests. But truth was deemed the best rule to inspire confidence at home and abroad and has been strictly adhered to as the highest journalistic principle.

Third, That injury out of all proportion to the actual danger has been and is being wrought to every possible interest of the city, state and neighboring states by local quarantine having no uniformity and no reference to science.

Fourth, That the most vile harm results in the quarantine of the mail, thus absolutely cutting off all communication, and this in spite of the fact that the enlightened science of the world has pronounced that no pathogenic organisms can live through the process of disinfection which the United States is here subjecting newspapers and all mail under the personal and impartial supervision of Dr. Carter and the United States marine haspital service and under his guarantee of thorough protection against infection.

Fifth, That unless this quarantine be removed, the harm to the state and south to localities, cities and towns may even be prolonged, as neither newspapers nor letters can bring tidings of the condition of affairs in New Orleans to a great num.

Sixth. That our brethren of the press addressed give conspicuous place to this special in their respective papers and use there good offices as brainy men and leaders in rational thought with our fellow citizens in their localities to the eng of removing the restrictions on the mail so that as citizens of one country we may hold intelligent communication and wisely direct our course of action in relation to the fever as it pertains both to our common safety and our common business

Seventh, That it is especially important immediately to set to work on this proposition and first free the mail, since the fever appears on the wane and is certain in a few weeks to be exterminated by the co'd, and in the clearer light thus afforded wisely in time to set the wheels of commerce in the south free.

several days ago. This morning Dr. Olli-phant telegraphed to Health Officer Swearingen appealing to that official to meet him in Galveston, Houston, Lake Charles or some other place. Dr. Olliphant was willing to journey to Galveston on a tug if necessary to meet the Texas official in order to explain to him that New Or-loans is not plague-stricken. Tonight Dr. Swearingen telegraphed to Dr. Olliphant that he would be unable to meet the Louisiana health officer anywhere.

conference may, therefore, be considered off for the present.

Dr. George said tonight that he had been up to his ears in work throughout the day. His business is to keep freight moving. During daylight the doctor said that he had started away nine cars of freight. These were cars containing mer-chandise necessary to be disinfected. Many other cars containing iron, hardware and similar articles, not requiring disinfection, were also dispatched.

The board of trade held a meeting today and after discussing the progress of th movement toward the amelioration of ex-isting quarantine regulations, telegraphed Governor Foster:

ference that you, as the chief executive officer of this state, wielding an influence even beyond official circles and likewise in other states, could assist the health officonferences which under the law are essary to harmonious action."

As the governor has done everything in his power to bring about a conference with other states, it may be expected that a warm response will be made by his excellency to the telegram of the merchants. Police Called Out.

There was a very exciting time today at Magnolia and St. Andrew streets, and the police force had to be called out to prevent riot. Through some mistake a case of vellow fever had been reported by telephone as existing at a number on Magnolia street. The board of health sent its officers to nail up a flag and take charge of the premises. The keeper of the house pro-tested that no yellow fever existed there and a large throng which gathered backed The police had to assist the health her up. The police had to assist the health officials in putting up the flag. In the meantime the alleged patient escaped over a back fence. An hour after the disturbance a note was received accompanied by a certificate by Dr. Petit, showing that no fever existed at the number where th trouble occurred. The case was elsewhere, Mississippi City, which is close to Beauvoir, Jefferson Davis's old home, had quite a scare yesterday and this morning. A lady from New Orleans had in some manner succeeded in running the gantlet of the quarantine, and until she had been got safely out of town Mississippi City had on very much of a fright. The lady had recently left New Orleans. Dispatches received this evening anounce that there are two cases of yellow fever on Dr. H. J. Saunders's plantation, near Patterson, La., and one additional suspicious case. All are traceable to Ocean

MEETING WAS ONE OF MUCH ENTRUSIASM

George Said He Voted for Bryan and Expected the Support of the Silver Men.

New York, October 5 .- Henry George accepted the nomination for mayor of Greater New York at Cooper Union tonight. It was in the same hall and before many of the same people that he accepted the nomination eleven years ago. In 1886 he received 68,000 votes. It was the greatest outpouring of the people seen in this city during the present campaign. Every seat 'n the big hall was occupied and the aisles were crowded Several thousands were unable to gain admission and assembled outside and held open air meetings in the plaza, which were addressed by everal local speakers. Henry George's appearance before the meeting was the signal for an outburst of cheer.ne 'hat lasted three minutes.

Jerome O'Neill, of the Central Labor Union, presided. The chairman mentioned the Chicago platform, whereupon the entire audience rose to its feet as one man, hats and handkerchiefs were waved in the air and the cheering continued for several minutes.

C. S. Walsh, secretary of the national ommittee and committeeman from Iowa, wired as follows: wired as follows:

"The local organization that refuses to recognize the majority rule as binding on the democrats of this country cannot be the regular democratic organization. Whoever has charge and keeping of the principles of the Chicago piatform is and must of necessity be the regular democracy. In New York city that charge seems to rest with the organization supporting Henry George, and as I see the situation at this distance, were I in New York I should vote and work for his election."

A telegram was also read from Senator

A telegram was also read from Senator Benjamin F. Tillman encouraging the movement for the election of Henry George and promising that he would work and vote for the recognition of the organization in the national committee. Charles O'Connor Hennessey, in making the nomination of

Mr. George, said simply:

This was followed by a frantic outburst of cheering and the nomination was made by acclamation. William McMurtic Speer then moved that an executive committee of five be appointed by the chair, with power to add to their number, to select the remaining candidates on the ticket and to carry out the campaign. The only restrictions placed upon the chairman in the naming of the committee were that the names should be acceptable to Mr. George. The resolution was passed. The secretary then read the following platform, which

The platform has the following to say in The platform has the following to say in regard to the national platform:

"We, democrats of Greater New York, in mass meeting assembled, do reaffirm our adherence to the creed of democracy as set forth in the platform adopted by the national convention of the democratic party in Chicago, July 9, 1896; we declare our allegiance to the principles enunciated in that document, pronouncing them the formal expression of the spirit of true democracy; and we point in corroboration of this belief to the fact that the mere promulgation of the doctrines drove from the democratic party those who for corrupt, mercenary or ambitious ends, had striven to make it a menace to the rights and liberties of the people rather than the defender"

It declares there is no regular democratic

It declares there is no regular democratic candidate for mayor except Henry George and "sends greetings to the gallant leader of the democratic party, William Jennings of the democratic party, William Jennings Bryan." Continuing it says:

"We declare the true purpose of government to, be the maintenance of that sacred right of property which gives to every one opportunity to employ his labor and security that he shall enjoy its fruits; to prevent the strong from oppressing the weak and the unserupulus from robbing the honest, and to do for the equal benefit of all such things as can be better done by organized scalar. as can be better done by organized society than by individuals; and we aim at the abolition of all laws which give to any class of citzens advantages, either judicial financial, industrial or political, that are not equally shared by all others." Municipal ownership of city railways, ga and electric lighting plants, ferries, tele phones and telegraphs is favored. The platform demands the compulsory reduction of the price of gas to $1 or less per 1,000, and of street car fares to "a just and reasonable point." The platform hints at the single tax by declaring for "reassumption of diverted wealth through wise, equitable and scientific taxa tion." The platform demands the repea of the Raines excise law, and continues of the Raines excise law, and continues:

"Deploring with full hearts the massarro at Hazelton, Fa., of a score of workingmen who were shot down for exercising their natural right to use the public highways for orderly procession, we call the attention of the people of New York to the fact that the execrable perversion of law

WOODFORD SENDS OFFICIAL NOTICE

Explosion So Strong That It Was Felt | Accepts the Several Nominations for | Names Members of the New Cabinet Who Teuch Foreign Policy.

PLATFORM IS ADOPTED, ALSO THREE OF THEM ARE KNOWN Notorious Band at Dalton Had

THE PREMIER WAS MINISTER OF STATE

Known in Official Circles in Washington.

Washington, October 5.-United States Minister Woodford has been heard from at last by the state department. A cablegram has been received from him dated Madrid, 7:45 last evening, addressed to Secretary Sherman, making the follow ing announcement of the appointment of such officers of the new Spanish cabine as may have to do with the foreign policy of the new government:

"New ministry formed. Sagastz, presint; Gullon, minister of state: Moret, min er of colonies. WOODFORD." ster of colonies. The composition of the new cabinet is the subject of considerable gossip in administration and diplomatic circles. It is felt that the three powers of the new regime, so far as concerns Cuban affairs, are Sagasta, Gullon and Moret, three names often noted in the state department records in connection with previous negotiations conmovements at the time of the last long Cuban war. Sagasta was minister of state at the tim our secretary of state, Hamilton Fish, sent to the United States minister at Madrid, Caleb Cushing, the instructions which have since become famous as laying down the policy of the United States, and the name of Gullon appeared signed to one of the Spanish answers to Minister Cushing. Gullon's apparent office being that of an assistant minister of state. As minister of the colonies, it is believed Senor Moret will take a leading part in the coming Cuban negotiations. He is well known here, having been minister of state of the colonies and also of finance. While Moret was in the cabinet during the previous Cuban rebellion, his business associate. Senor Azcarrate, came to this country as an envoy to effect a settlement with the Cubans by granting them a measure of autonomy.

The other new cabinet officers are not known to officials here. Captain General Weyler, on learning of he proposal to organize a public demonstration in his honor, has especially prohibited any undertaking of the kind. Today 116 of the most prominent and wealthy merchants and importers joined in a cable message to the new premier congratulating him upon his accession to power, recognizing his (Sagasta's) high patriotism and requesting him to maintain Captain General Weyler at the head of affairs in Cuba. The dispatch said: "The government has the confidence of all the Spaniards in the Island, who firmly believe that the plans of Captain General Weyler, in the exceptional conditions of the case, will soon terminate the war and effect pacification." SAGASTA VISITS WOODFORD. Spanish Premier Says Programme Will Be Carried Out with Wisdom. Madrid, October 5 .- Senor Sagasta, the premier, was the first visitor at the United States legation this morning. His interview with General Woodford was cordial, but absolute reserve is maintained as to what passed in the conversation. Senor Moret, the minister for the colo nies, it is semi-officially announced, has decided to apply as soon as possible all the measures which are comprised in the programme of the liberals regarding the Antilles, including all that is necessary for the application of autonomy for Cuba in the form permitted by the circumstances. Premier Sagasta, in an interview, is quoted as saving that most important questions are before the cabinet ministers, who have a thorough knowledge of the financial position of Spain and possess accurate details of the war situation in Cuba and in the Philippine islands. The government, Senor Sagasta added, will carry out its political and military programme with firmness and sagacity. garding the future of Captain General Weyler, he said he supposed Weyler would resign, adding that if he did not do so, he would be recalled.

WEYLER'S FRIENDS AT WORK. They Meet and Ask Government Not

To Recall Him.

Havana, October 5.-The friends of Captain General Weyler made a grand rally in his behalf today and did all they could possibly do to prevent his recall to Spain. They held a meeting at the Spanish casino, many of the wealthiest class of Spanlards being present. Resolutions indorsing General Weyler were adopted with great enthusiasm and a cable message was sent to the government at Madrid announcing that the representatives of the trading, mercantile and industrial communities assembled at the meeting were familiar with the affairs of the islandhof Cuba and were consequently satisfied with the course followed by Captain General Weyler looking to an early and complete pacification of Cuba and expressing fear that his recall will delay the pacification. In conclusion the friends of General Weyler begged the Spanish press to trust in him and announced the intention of those present at the meeting, after making these resolutions, to abide by the govern-

Walter Bohannon was the leader of the gang, which numbered ten. His associates in the Fulton county jail are Ed Pierce and Sam Painter. They operated at Dalton and in the jall there are Tom Kinneman and Ed Morris, two other members of the band. Two men named Long and another member escaped on the night of the capture. Rafe Ellison, who drove the wagon in which the goods were hauled away from the railroad on at least one occasion, is under arrest, Another member is said to be where the officers can lay their hands on him at a moment's notice. The Southern railway has been paying out $1,000 a month for two or three years on claims for goods which were never received by consignees. The officers of the company have known for a year some of the members of the band and have kept up with their depredations. They were often confident that they could trace the stolen articles, but they patiently waited for proof that would convict. Every month the robberies would be reported and the claim department would authorize the payment of large sums, averaging, as stated above, fully $1,000 every thirty days. Detectives were put on the case time nd again, but they could not get quite strong enough evidence, because Bohannon is intelligent and he always destroyed the boxes and packages in which the stolen goods were shipped. Last spring Superintendent Vaughan put a detective named Connally on the case. Connally was instructed to take his time, a year if necessary, or ten years, if he required it, to get conclusive proof. The detective went to work and after a time won the confidence of one of the band. Connally picked up a little information month by month and slowly wove the web around the robbers. But he could not catch them in the act or

Sends a Lieutenant Here. Bohannon became suspicious and determined to play a bold card. Some time during the summer he sent Tom Kinneman, one of his men, down to Atlanta to see Superintendent Vaughan, of the Southern's Atlanta and Chattanooga division. Kinneman called on the superintendent and in the course of a long in-

These robbers are said to have their headquarters at Dalton. I do not know anything about them and came down here to frank talk with you and assure you that I am innocent and have no knowledge at all of who do belong to the bane. It is said that there are some prominent people in it, well-known business men up our way, but I cannot say anything at all on that, because I have no idea who are the members or where they sell their stolen goods." Kinneman had been instructed by Bohannon to sound the superintendent and try to learn from him who were suspected. The superintendent was too shrewd to let anything out, but he said the road intended to get protection from the county authorities and eventually the band would certainly be caught. Superintendent Vaughan had positive information that Kinneman was one of the gang, but did not accuse him, although he asked Kinneman many questions. Kinneman went back and reported to Bohannon. Then the leader himself, in true banditti style, came down to Atlanta and called on Superintendent Vaughan in the latter's office over on West Peter street. It is said that Bohannon talked around the subject for some time before he broached his real mission. The super ntendent asked him two or three times if he could do anything for hir

CHINA SILK WAS THE FAVORITE

Winner Pulled Down a $15,000 Purse Before Immense Crowd.

Twenty-Fifth Annual Meeting of Trotting Horse Breeders' Association Is Now On.

Lexington, Ky., October 5 .- The twentyfifth annual meeting of the Kentucky trot-ting Horse Breeders' Association began today under splendid auspices. The crowd was large, every state being represented by leading breeders and track managers. The track was good without being especially fast. The $15,000 Kentucky Futurity for three-year-olds was hotly contested in every heat Bumps had an easy thing in the 2:09 pac ing race, although Annanias and Plana forced him to go three heats in 2:06 and 2:07. Little Edgar won the 2:16 class trotting in llow style in straight heats. Both Bumps and Little Edgar were favorites.

The judges were President P. P. Johnson,
S. T. Harbison, of Lexington, and William Russell Allen, of Pittsfield, Mass. Frank

Walker, of Indianapolis, starter.

The eight young trotters were called for the Futurity at 2:30 o'clock. Limbrel drew the pole with China, Silk on the outside. They were sent off on the first score and Kenny took China Silk to the front at once closely pressed by Miss Della Fox. She kept the lead all the way and won the heat easily in 2:19, with Miss Della Fox second

In the next heat China Silk again took the lead and kept it into the stretch, where Preston came with a rush, and trotting the last quarter in 31 seconds, won handily in 2:1314, the fastest heat ever trotted in this

In the third heat the Montana mare to the front as usual on the turn and Hic-kok took Thorne up to second place, there-by putting Preston in a pocket, from which he was unable to get out until the far turn was reached. He came fast through the stretch and won in a hard drive from Thorne with China Silk third. The fourth heat was a facer for the talent, as Thorne won by a head in 2:14 from Preston with Philip E third.

In the fifth heat Fuller started to lay Preston up, but changed his mind and drove his colt the last quarter in 3012 sec but was beaten by Thorne. Only the three heat winners started in the sixth and Thorne led all the way and won handily

Silk was the favorite before and after the first heat. After Preston had won two heats he became first choice. The shifted after Thorne had won the

TEMPLE CUP SERIES. Clubs Played Won Lost P. C. Boston...... 2 1 1 .500 Baltimore..... 2 1 1 .500

Boston, October 5.-The second game in the Temple cup series was, like the first, distinguished by terrific hitting by both rines, but today the Baltimores came out ahead through their ability to get in the hits when they were most needed. While Cortett, though hit hard, held the home team down at critical times.

The game was much more interesting and exciting than that of yesterday, and the home team was very much in it up to the last inning when they fell down woefully, though one safe hit would have tied the

No ground rules hindered long hits, and he players, getting the full worth of their drives, ran the bases daringly, without fear of being called back. Again the perfect weather made the game njoyable, while there was only a small kick in the last inning on account of dark-

The shining star of the two champion aggregations was Long, the shortstop of the home team. His stops were fairly electrifying, and it is safe to say that such work has never been excelled. One ball from Doyle's bat he picked up twenty feet behind second base and retired the runner, while McGraw hit another one nearly in the same place and met a like

For Baltimore, Stenzel's covering of center field was a notable feature. Nine Bos-ton players were retired on flies in that direction and not one was dropped. For the visitors, Corbett and Clark led in the hitting, while Hamilton came in with a clean score, his base running being of the inest description.

he first inning and kept it up to the fifth, when two bases on balls and a hit were followed by a home run by Reltz, which brought in four runs. Then Klobey came out and Stivetts went in; but the change did not seem to mend matters, for Clarke banged the first ball pitched over the fence for the second home run, and Corbett followed with a two-bagger. Hits after that came at necessary moments, and the visitors managed to win without difficulty. Corbett, while wild at times, proved a stumbling block until the fourth, when six runs came over the plate, five of them earned. Corbett, however, pulled himself together and, barring the seventh, held the home team down in good shape.

Although the brass bands were missing, here was much more genuine enthusias than yesterday. Score:

Ex-Consul Williams Tells of Change of Government in Central American Republic.

New York, October 5 .- The first details of the international disorders which have resulted in President Iglesias, of Costa Rica, declaring himself dictator were received today from Harrison H. Williams, until recently United States consul at San Jose, Costa Rica, and who arrived here today on the steamer Alene from Port Li-

The agitation against President Iglesias culminated at Santo Domingo on Sunday, September 12th, in a bloody riot in which five men, one of them rich and the others more or less well known, were killed and more than thirty others wounded. The riot was between influential partisans of President Eglesias and his opponents. President Iglesias some time ago was announced as a candidate to succeed himself. The election is to be held next month, and he is at the head of what is known as the civilist party. There arose very bitter opposition to him. Object to a Gold Standard.

Its strength has been chiefly in the cities where the business men are deeply opposed to him and denounce him because he changed Costa Rica's standard to that of gold exclusively. They say the change is foolish and impracticable and will work great harm to the country. They also speak bitterly of his Pacific railroad scheme, which will cost $3,800,000.

When President Iglesias heard of the riot he immediately availed himself of the opportunity to declare himself dictator. Mr. Williams says he did this so as to make absolute assurance of preserving the peace and having no repetition of the deadly riot

Mr. Williams says he will be re-elected president, not because he has announced himself dictator, but because the majority of the voters support him and will vote for him. The Pacific railroad, against which there is so much opposition, is being built by John S. Caremen, of Zanesville, O., and W. H. Logan, of Minneapolis.

"I cannot divide into parts the questions which I as a citizen have to deal with. For the same reason that I oppose this monstrous tariff in all its forms, for the same reason that I would vote wherever I could for the utter abolition of that tariff, for that same reason I am opposed to the interference with individual liberty which you see here in New York. I am a democrat in the Jeffersonian sense, because I believe in the principles and stand for the philosophy of Thomas Jefferson.

"It was for that I voted at the last election. Because the Chicago platform represented the idea of giving to the great common people what belongs to them, that I stood for it, voted for it and was sorrier than I was ever before when it was defeated."

There Was a Quorum Without Hoffman or Ryan Shares-Management Continues the Same.

F. Ryan made another effort to capture the Seaboard Air-Line today, but met his second defeat at the hands of President R. C. Hoffman. Each side enjoined the other. Mr. Hoffman procured his injunction against the Ryan stock being voted several days ago.

Mr. Ryan's attorney, Mr. Henry Crawford, had two injunctions from Judge Simonton, of the United States court. The judge issued the injunction from Flat Rock, where he was in the summer of 1896, when he enjoined the Seaboard and other roads from running a rate war. The Hoffman injunction was only a state court paper, but it served its purpose, because it kept the Ryan stock from being voted. The Simonton injunction would not allow the Hoffman pooled stock to be voted, All stock outside of either pool was permitted to vote, and there was enough of this to hold a meeting and an This outside stock voted the Hoffman ticket in, while the Hoffman stock and the Ryan stock was tied out. It was a winning game for the Hoffman ites anyway the wheel turned." They had coppered the Ryan stock so that it could not vote, and if Ryan prevented their stock from voting, they had a strong pull with the outside stock. ASPHALT FOR AUBURN AVENUE

BY GENERAL COUNCIL. Cost of Forsyth Street Paving $21, 806.26-How Amount Is Divided Between Parties.

ORDINANCE WILL BE ADOPTED

Auburn avenue will be paved from Butler street to Hilliard street. Asphalt is to be the material to be used. The ordinance directing the paying of the street was intro duced in council yesterday by the street committee, Alderman Mitchell, chairman. Under the law street paving ordinances must go over one meeting and the ordl nance was referred to the street committee. It will be adopted by council at its next meeting and the work will be started at once. This is a victory for Councilman Howard, who has worked several months to get the ordinance through the council. The cost of the Forsyth street pavement has been determined by City Engineer Clayton. The work has been completed and the total cost was $21,806.26, divided as follows:

City of Atlanta, $5,175.91; property owners $10,947.13; Atlanta Rallway Company, $5,566. 23; Consolidated, $116.99.

CROOK LEAVES A SHORTAGE?

Employee of Atlanta Telephone Exchange Arrested in Alexandria.

WAS TO MEET GENTRY MONDAY

But He Decided To Leave Town-Telegrem from Gentry Caused His Arrest-Says He Lost Money.

Charles Crook, an employee of the Atlanta Telephone exchange, had an engagement to meet Manager Gentry Monday night and discuss an alleged shortage. He failed to keep the engagement, and as a result is now locked up in the police station in Alexandria charged with being short in his accounts with the telephone company.

Crook was arrested in Alexandria last night as he stepped from the Seaboard A!r-Line train. Instead of meeting Manager Gentry he had decided to leave the city, and took the train for Alexandria. A telegram from Manager Gentry to Man ager Wythe White, of the Alexandria Telephone exchange, caused the arrest.

Crook is a son of Robert N. Crook, a well-to-do citizen of Alexandria. He takes his arrest very coolly, and says he would rather be behind the bars in Alexandria than in the same predicament in Atlanta.

The following dispatch from Washington tells the story of the arrest:

Washington, October 5.—(Special.)—Charles Crook, charged with being short in his accounts with the Atlanta Telephone exchange, was arrested in Alexandria tonight just as he left the Seaboard Air-Line train. His arrest was due to a telegram from Manager Gentry to Wythe White, manager of the telephone exchange in Alexandria, in which the charge of embezzlement was made.

which the charge of embezzlement was made.

Crooks says he lost $56 belonging to the company and owed them $16. He had an appointment to meet Manager Gentry last night to go over the accounts, but realizing that arrest was sure to follow an examination he took the 7 o'clock train on the Seaboard Air-Line out of Atlants and arrived in Alexandris tonight.

He was locked up at police headquarters and no effort was made to have him released on bail tonight. He is a son of Bobert N. Crook, a well-to-do citizen of Alexandria, and went to Atlanta six months ago to accept the place under Manager Gentry.

He takes his arrest coolly and says he prefers being locked up here rather than in Atlants.

MOTIVE PROVED FORWIFE MURDER?

McCullough Verdict May Be Reached This Morning.

MOTIVE FOR CRIME IS SHOWN

Fyidence To Show That He Was Intimate with Jud Jones.

PRISONER BREAKS DOWN ON STAND

When Making His Statement His Voice Was Choked with Sobs-State Made Out a Good Case-Watson's and Hill's Brilliant Argument.

With teers streaming down his face and his voice choked with sobs, John McCullough stood before the jury yesterday and begged them for his life. Unnerved, unmanned and shaking with a pitiful terror that he could not control, he told the story of that fatal morning when his wife was murdered on the pretty little farm at River-

The simple statement was all that was offered in defense of the man who is charged with beating out his wife's brains, so, as the prosecution tried to show, that he might be able to wed her sister.

His fate is now in the hands of twelve men, who at 10 o'clock last night, left the spell of Tom Watson's oratory to pass upon the life or death of the accused hus-short but desperate. With powerful strength the prosecution hurled its evidence against the walls of defense that Mc Cullough's attorneys were trying to build. With a rapidity seldom witnessed in a courtroom, the witnesses were examined. By 9 o'clock the prosecution had finished its case and a few minutes later McCullough went on the stand and told his story. The testimony throughout, with but two exceptions, was entirely different from that delivered at the first trial of McCullough. Evidence that was only hinted at when McCullough was first arraigned was fully sifted before the jury, and alleged facts that were then too terrible even for suggestion were yesterday portrayed before the

A motive was the feature that the prosecution failed to show at its first trial. Yesterday they offered evidence to prove that McCullough had a powerful motive impel him to perpetrate the murder of his wife.

Witnesses were put on the stand to swear that McCullough was Intimate with Miss Judson Jones, his wife's sister; that he went to a doctor to buy medicine that would cause a criminal effect; that his wife knew of the illicit relations existing bethat because of this liason McCullough followed his wife into the pasture where she had gone to pick berries and there dealt her the blows which took her life and left him free to marry the sister. One by one these powerful theories were piled up against the defense. A reputable physician swore that McCullough tried to buy medicine from him that would cause a criminal effect and other witnesses were introduced to prove that this medicine was not for McCullough's wife, as he claimed, but for another.

Dr. W. A. Monnish, of this city, figured in the sensational developments of the trial. It was shown that Judson Jones took medicine from a bottle, the wrapper of which bore his name. Not one word of evidence was introduced by the defense to disprove the accusations against him The struggle between the attorneys after the argument was begun was interesting

WONDERFUL RECOVERY OF MISS HATTIE KING.

Miss Hattie King, of 94 Humboldt street, Ithaca, N. Y. who was recently so ill that little hope was entertained of her recovery, has entirely regained her health. Her case is one of unusual interest. Following is substantially the language of her step-father. Charles M. Burnett, corroborated by that of the mother, in speaking to a reporter of The Ithacan:

"She was not only a physical wreck, but her mind was affected, and at times she had no realization of what she was doing. We feared, in fact, a complete mental overthrow and consequent removal to an asylum, for although we had two of the best physicians in the city, and had tried several proprietary medicines, none benefited her.

"We had read considerable about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and

She suffered excessive nausea and attacks of vomiting. There were days when she could keep little or nothing on her stomach. She also was troubled with kidney disease. Her blood was so thin that the drop or two drawn by the prick of a needle was almost as colorless as water. She had trouble with her heart and often fainted from the slightest exer-

"Hattie began to take the pills in the early part of January of this year. Improvement was noticeable after the first box had been taken. The first hopeful sign that I noticed was that she did not complain of headache. The attacks of dizziness also began to abate in frequency and she ceased to cough. One after another, the distressing symptoms left her. She took, in all, nine boxes of pills. At the present time she is in perfect health. The alteration in her mind and body is almost past belief.

Solicitor Hill had as an able and forcible assistant in the argument. Colonel W. L. Watterson, who made a strikingly fine argument against the defendant. The speeches of Colonal Rountree and Colonel Hutchinson, both for the defense, were masterly. The judge's charge to the jury, which was delivered at 10 o'clock, was fair and able. It instructed the jury to deliver one of three verdicts. The charge defined to the closest degree the meaning of circumstancial evidence. Judge Candler instructed the jury not to consider the case until this morning. The verdict will be brought in some time today. Fought for a Mistrial.

A mistrial was very nearly declared yes-terday at 7:30 o'clock, when court recon-

Tom Watson and his assistant attorneys started a very lively investigation with view to securing such a result. Before the court began the trial of McCullough the defense charged that Bailiff Hudson, who has charge of the jury, had talked of the case in their hearing during the night. Several witnesses were sworn. Mr. Hud-son admitted that he talked, but said he had not spoken loud enough for the jury

"My wife wanted to get through with her work so that she could go down. She had all the housework to do, and I decided to help her. When she went out to milk the cows I got a brush broom and swept the yards. She finished at the lot and came and started to help me sweep. I told her that I would finish the yard, and she went on to her other work.

"While I was sweeping, my wife came out and said we needed some kerosene oil, and that we had better send to Riverdale to the store and get it, as we would not be home in the afternoon. Mrs. Hutcheson was allowed to testify as to what Mrs. McCullough had told her in regard to the alleged intimacy between the prisoner and Miss Judson.

When pressed to tell the dead woman's exact language, the witness said:

"I think she told me this: John and Jud are getting too intimate, but please don't tell my folks about it."

Dr. Dodd was, for the second time, put on the stand:

"About three weeks before the death of Mrs. McCullough, Mr. McCullough, Came to me and told me that his wife was in a delicate condition," he stated. "He asked me for a medicine that would produce a criminal operation. He said that he did not want his wife to become a mother on account of her health, and he wanted this medicine to prevent it. I gave him a vial of medicine that would produce an effect entirely different from that he desired. "Indirect, or circumstantial evidence, is that which only tends to establish the issue by proof of various facts sustaining by, their consistency the hypothesis claimed.

"To warrant a conviction on circumstantial evidence the proved facts must not only be consistent with the theory of guilt, but it must exclude every other reasonable hypothesis save that of the guilt of the accused.

"Circumstances satisfactorily proven, which point to guilt, and which are irreconcilable with any theory of innocence and which require explanation, and which may be explained by a defendant if innocent, and which are not so explained, may be sufficient to meet this rule, and if such proven facts are strong enought to satisfy your minds and consciences to a reasonable and moral certainty, and beyond a reasonable doubt, of the defendant's guilt, you should so find; but if not, you should find him not guilty. The proof, to authorize a conviction, need not be the direct evidence of a person who saw a crime committed. The acts constituting the crime may be proven by circumstances, and if the circumstances proven in this case are such as are consistent with the theory that this defendant is the person who committed it, and if they are strong enough to convince you beyond a reasonable theory save that of his being the person who committed it, and if they are strong enough to convince you beyond a reasonable doubt that he is the person who committed it, you should find him guilty; otherwise you should not.

"I have used the words 'reasonable hypothesis." That means reasonable theory. It does not mean every idea that might enter a man's mind; but it means reasonable theory as opposed to one that is merely chimerical—as one that is opposed to reason.

"If, taking the evidence offered convinces you, as reasonable men, of the same, and excludes every reasonable theory other than that of the defendant's guilt, then you should find the defendant's guilt, then you should find the defendant's guilt, otherwise not."

non's statement when the man finally came to the matter which was uppermost on his mind. His statement was in effect very similar to the one Kinneman had made a few weeks before.

"It is reported around Dalton that I have been reported to you. Mr. Vaughan, as being connected in some way with the outlaws who have been robbing your freight cars. I want to set myself right with you and with the public. I do not know the slightest thing about the band. The only information I have is what I have heard talked around Dalton. I believe though that if the company will offer a reward it can catch the thieves. They are supposed to be a desperate set of men and will probably kill anybody who attempts to arrest them. I am willing and really anxious to help you catch the guilty parties in order to save the road from these losses and to clear my own name, and if there is anything I can do I will gladly co-operate with you." Mr. Vaughan is said to have replied that the railroad was a taxpayer in Whitfield county and entitled to protection. It would rely on the county officers to break up the

"Now let me tell you what we propose: The Southern rallway will not offer a reward, but it intends to see that the robbers are caught if it takes ten years to get them. We will not submit quietly to these robberies and if you are in the gang you might as well make up your mind that you will be arrested sooner or later."

"You may catch the guilty parties, but you will not find me among them," Bohannon replied, with a laugh.

Mr. Vaughan asked Bohannon his business. He said that he had never worked, but speculated in cotton and wheat and sometimes made money on the races. When he left they shook hands and the superintendent remarked that he was glad Mr. Bohannon had called. Bohannon's plan of operating was to go up the Southern ten or twenty miles above Dalton or send a member of the band on a dark night. The robber would break the seal on a car door at a water tank or some local station, jump in the car and close the door. When the train got in motion again the robber would light a small candle and proceed to pick out such articles as could readily be sold. Silks and other dress goods, tobacco, groceries and provi-sions were preferred. These would be sorted out and piled up beside the door A mue or two below Dalton the door would be opened and the articles would be thrown out on the side of the track where the confederates would pick then where the consederates would pick them up and carry them into the bushes and hide them. The robber in the car would jump out at the next stopping place, close the door and go home.

In the meantime the booty would be opened. The boxes were always burned and the goods inside would be placed in bags or tarpaulins and hauled to the hiding place. Bohannon pretended to be a salesman and sold the plunder, sometimes in Dalton, it is said, sometimes in neighboring towns and at other times it would be shipped off to some fence to sell. Often the robber in the car would pick out a box containing something which could not be sold safely around home without attracting too much suspicion. This kind of booty accumulated until Bohannon had a great quantity of it. It was hauled in wagons to a point fifteen miles up the Western and Atlantic railroad, loaded into a car and shipped to Texas. Bohannon went to the place, received the car and sold the goods at auction. He always handled the money and paid his confederates whatever pleased him. Two or three of the gang were small farmers. The others were laborers. They had an oath-bound organization, and they were all sworn to stand by each other to the death. A little more than a month ago Bohannon planned another raid. Connally was informed of it and he went to the sheriff of Whitfield county and got him to take some deputies and go out and lie in wait for the gong. When the train came along a car door was opened and boxes were tumbled out at a lively rate. The train was not out of sight before the robbers ran out from a clump of bushes and began picking up the booty. At that moment the sheriff and his deputies closed in on the gang and caught five. Bohannon was one of them. Pierce Painter Kinneman and Morris were the others. One or two got away and the

We are in the position of any other citizen who has been robbed. We want protection." This was one message return-

Judge Fite's charge to the grand jury at Dalton on Monday was communicated to Bohanron. The judge was very outspoken in his remarks to the jury, declaring that it was notorious that Dalton was charged with harboring a gang of robbers. He went further and said that prominent merchants of Dalton were suspected of being in league with the gang.

"Some of them may even be on this grand jury," the judge is quoted as exclaiming. "If this be true, we must purge the jury and you must return true bills against all persons who appear from the evidence to be guilty, sparing none because of their prominence or your personal feelings." Dalton is said to be deeply stirred by the sensation. The trial comes off next week. No one can tell what the robbers will say or who they will implicate when they go to trial. On the preliminary trial, at least one of the merchants admitted that he had bought goods from Behannen, but he de clared that he did not know where Bohannon obtained them, and did not suspect that they had been stolen. Will Talk if Indicted.

Bohannon, Pierce and Painter were seen in jail by a reporter of The Constitution last night and told that the grand jury was investigating the charges against them. Bohannon was seen first. He asked what developments had taken place and said that if a true bill was found against him he would be willing to talk and tell the reporter something which would be very interesting. He insinuated that he a knew a great deal, but could not open his mouth as he hoped to get "matters fixed" by keeping his mouth shut.

"When I am indicted, if I am ever indicted," he said, "I shall be willing to give you an interview which I can promise will be of great interest to many of your readers. But just now I do not care about saying anything."

"Were you in the gang?" he was asked. "No. I wasn't," he replied.

Painter and Pierce were questioned about the matter and they both declined to say anything, except that they were not guilty and knew nothing about the car breaking. Bohannon, ever since his arrest, has maintained that he would not be prosecuted. He said last night that he would be surprised it he were indicted.

It is no wonder that these happy and successful farmers who plow and hoe in the neighborhood of Wall street, scent prosperity in every breeze that blows for the first, nor the second, nor the and see it in every passing cloud. far as they are concerned, prosperity is a real thing even in hard times.

We have in mind this moment the case of Farmer James R. Keene, who is one of the best known and most practical agriculturists of Wall street. This hornyhanded son of toil went down into the Wall street wheat farm the other day and walked out with two or three millions of dollars earned by the sweat of his sun-kissed brow. We do not know whether he plowed the bull or the er, or whether he watered what others ad planted: nor does it matter. It is ligh to know that he made more an hour's labor than ten thousand wheat growers of the west could make in two

Under these circumstances, it is no wonder that Farmer Keene should be inthe most rosy. It has restored his prosperity, and it is natural that he should restored. Having made two or three not look with hope on every passing can be bought elsewhere. event. His enthusiasm is such that, to a reporter for The World. We should to give our readers a faste of Farmer Keene's notions: We, therefore, present the following:

You see, the farmers and those whose ests are allied to them represent more 40 per cent of our population. Now for three years the farmers have made little money. They have had to prac-the most rigid economy in order to survive the depressed times. They have limited themselves to necessities and in-dulged in no luxuries. But while they have been suffering the United States have all agricultural exports, representing some 70 per cent of our total exports, have be estantly increasing the balance of trade

The fact is that the United States have had 40 per cent of the population working for the country for three years past for the smallest compensation—a mere living. Now everything that we have for sale is bringing such high prices that the farmers are getting rich and general business is expanding under the freer distribution of money. One hundred million dollars' worth of our securities have come in this fall.

Mr. Edward Atkinson, who is an older hand at statistics than Farmer Keene, rates the farmers themselves at 40 percent of the population-they and their allied interests constituting at least 60 per cent of the population. f Farmer Keene has inadvertently made a mistake here, it is amply compensatfollows, namely, that while the farmers have been suffering the country has all the time been growing richer from their labor; that for three years the United States have had 40 per cent of the population working for the country for three years past for the smallest compensation-a mere living."

Herein lies the kernel of a great truth, but Farmer Keene does not pick it out. The fact is that the farmers have not been working for the benefit of this couniholders. The country has not been enriched by the operation, but has grow: poorer except in those favored districts where the bonds and securities are massed. The country at large has grown poorer in proportion as the income of the farmers has been cut down. That the government itself has grown been compelled to add three hundred thing we have for sale is bringing such high prices that the farmers are getting If Farmer Keene means the farmers of Wall street are getting rich, we have nothing more to say; but if he intends the remark to apply to those who foil in the fields, we say to him that he is mistaken-sadly mistaken. We could wish, indeed, that it were true, but it is not true, even of the wheat growers; while, as for the rest, we have only to remind him that the cotton growers are getting nearly 2 cents pound less for their cotton than they got a year ago.

That is the situation. We wish it were otherwise, but we are now dealing with actual and substantial facts, and neither hope nor expecta-tion helps matters. Thus far, the farmers of the south have worked for less this year than they received last year, and therefore it is idle to say that they are enjoying or sharing in the remarkable prosperity that has come to the farmers who dig and delve in the shade of Wall street.

But we are not criticising Farmer It is the most natural thing in Keene. the world that a farmer who can dig two or three millions out of Wall street in a few days should feel that prosperity is in the air. Under such circumstances it is impossible for him to look cold facts n the face with any degree of patience Everything is rosy and hopeful, and he is to be excused for lifting up his jocund voice in the newspapers.

The First Frost.

Early risers in Atlanta yesterday saw a sight that would have been hailed with delight in the fever-infected regions-a white frost.

Atlanta could well afford to postpone this exhibition, however pleasant it may be, provided the districts that have no mmunity from the fever could have the benefit of it. We would rather hear of frost at Montgomery or Birmingham, or, better still, at the points where the infection has found a lodgment, than to see it in Atlanta, where the climate and all the conditions have written "IM-MUNITY" in large letters across the face of things.

The case of fever imported here from Mobile has run its course, and the child who had it is so far convalescent that her recovery seems now to be certain. farm on the floor of the grain exchange, In the house isolated with her, and constantly exposed to the fever for more than ten days, have been a dozen or more people, some from Mobile, who may be said to have been liable to the infection, and some native to our own climate. It beyond all question that germs of the infection cannot propagate here—that they perish as soon as ex- ning with General Weyler's recall. posed to the conditions which are a normal feature of Atlanta's climate and atmosphere.

Though this fact is not demonstrated fifth time, it is worth referring to here and worth remembering hereafter, not only for the benefit of the theorists, but for the consolation of those alien souls who in the midst of a panic of their own making, have tacked the name of Atlanta on a vellow fever flag, and so closed their gates to common sense and

What the South Needs.

In the current number of The Chattanooga Tradesman appears a timely ar ticle from the pen of Mr. J. C. Ransom, bearing upon the needs of our southern commerce. Mr. Ransom shows that during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, our foreign exports aggregated the handsome sum of $380,000,000, but that, strikingly at variance with these figures, only a small percentage of the business which they represent was carried on through American vessels.

This statement should open the eyes of our southern merchants. But Mr Ransom does not content himself with ed for by the truthful statement that the argument which this simple statement contains. He goes still deeper into the subject, and shows that our southern merchants in failing to pat ronize American vessels are really standing in their own light. Estimating the average rate charged by ocean steam ers for transporting merchandise at 8 per cent, the writer argues that some thing over $30,000,000 goes annually into the pockets of foreign vessel owners, which should remain in this secor at least on the American side try, but for the benefit of our European of the Atlantic. But these figures cover exports only; and when to the sum above given is added the charge on imports, it can readily be seen that the sum of money which the south pays out yearly in steamship tariffs alone is some thing enormous. In calling attention to this enormor expenditure, Mr. Ransom does not urge upon our southern merchants the importance of patronizing New York, Bos ton or Philadelphia steamship lines, but rather the importance or originating and developing southern steamship lines which will be sufficient for the needs of our commerce. As the writer shrewd ly suggests, New York, Boston and Philadelphia have pecuniary interests of Keene's further remark that "now every- their own to serve; and instead of paying large profits into these northern and eastern seaports, why should not the south rather seek to build up her own The Increase of Fertilizers.

seaports and to keep these profits home? Imagine what splendid results could be realized in the course of a single year if the south, by operating own steamship lines, could divert into home channels the immense sum of money which annually finds its into European coffers. Our practical business men should not allow the section to be drained of its revenue in this manner when effective methods for preventing it are easily within reach. As the writer points out, satisfactory trade relations can be carried on with Europe from our own ports without the expenditure of any great amount of capital. Of course this statement does not imply that our southern steamship lines modestly operated would rival those of New York, Boston and Philadelphia; for such would not be necessary to etfect the south's purpose. To quote the exact language of Mr. Ransom in this connection: "What the south needs at this time is small squadrons of combuilt, swift-sailing vessels, capable of receiving a moderate tonnage and of transporting it across the ocean at cheap rates." The writer explains that British, German, French and Italian companies have built up their immense traffic in this way, and that what foreign companies have succeeded in doing by comparatively inexpensive methods, domestic companies can likewise succeed in doing. Continuing along this line the writer observes: "Some twenty vessels distributed among the south At lantic and gulf seaports would find business during a greater part of the year, carrying abroad cotton, wheat and corp On the return voyages they would have the same opportunities that other vessels have, and there is no reason why they should not succeed from a financial standpoint. Certainly they would do so if the government would co-operate in the way of free registry and the assessment of a port tax on foreign steamers. Undoubtedly there is food for serious thought in what Mr. Ransom says, and the timely suggestion which he makes should receive the patient consideration of our enterprising and wide-awake southern merchants

Premier Sagasta at the Helm.

Since Premier Sagasta has formally assumed the reins of government in Spain, the question naturally arises in the mind of every thoughtful reader, what effect will this change of ministry have upon the Spanish policy in dealing with the Cuban uprising?

In part, at least, this question is answered by the premier himself. To quote the language imputed to him in a recent interview Premier Sagasta says: We shall completely reverse the policy of the last two years in Cuba, beginaccepting the premiership I informed queen that the liberal party had definite plans in relation to all pending questions, and that autonomy would be offered to the Cubans on lines which they had themselves proposed. The liberal party is prepared to grant all possible self-government to Cuba, including a board of tariff and every concession not inimical to Spanish rule on the is-We believe that such a course will satisfy a majority of the Cubans." This seems to be a plain statement of e liberal party's attitude toward the Cuban uprising, and Premier Sagasta is undoubtedly sincere in making it His long career of public service warrants the belief that he will faithfully discharge the obligations devolving upon him at this crisis, and what must necessarily be a great inspiration to him in assuming the premiership is the unbounded confidence which the people of utter failure of the late conservative administration, come to regard him with sincere feelings of admiration and re-sincere feelings of admiration and respect.

So much for the character of the new premier, and for what appears to be the policy of the liberal party.

But what is to be the effect of this change in the government at Madrid upon the situation in Cuba? Do the insurgents who have so often been deceived by Spanish duplicity intend to put down their arms and tamely submit to the system of home rule which the liberal party holds out to them? Such, at least, is not the spirit which recent developments on the island have evinced. Instead of tamely submitting again to Spanish rule, even in its most benevolent guise, these developments unmistakably declare that whatever changes may occur from time to time in the government at Madrid, Cuba is bent upon achieving her independence. Evidently the risk which the liberal party has assumed is a difficult one, and unless present indications are misleading, there is little hope of its success. Cuba is fated to be free.

We cannot prove it by selecting practical men who have "made money" by farming, nor can we disprove it by referring to unfortunate and impractical men who have failed. The first proposition is proven by the fact that the crop of the state has been increased and thereby the farmers' income.

As to the second proposition, men are usually governed by their experiences, and when they are not so governed, they become impractical and unsuccessful. Yet there is a class of men who are propelled by bilind faith, simply hoping against reason year after year by making heavy applications of fertilizers, improvidently applied, to their crops to increase their fortunes, and failure is the result instead of profit.

Now as to the third proposition that the farmers are increasing in wealth. The great question that here confronts us is, has the agricultural wealth of the state been enhanced by the liberal increase of fertilizers? I answer that from my information and observation, I think that heretofore and now some 15 or 20 per cent of fertilizers used by the farmers in this state are unprofitable, because spurious and therefore not worth the money paid for them. Again, there is perhaps 25 per cent of fertilizers used in such a haphazard manner that no profit results to the farmer. Yet, notwith standing this gloomy view. of the case, I believe that the agricultura wealth of the state is annually increasing, for there is yet 55 or 60 per cent to be considered, and this proportion in the hands of practical, industrious and ener retic men will not only overcome the loss largely to

Against the gentleman from Hall will be pitted Colonel W. H. Charters, who has also been spoken of in connection with the race for speakership. He will give up When first introduced every farmer was erimenting by manuring only a por his crop, and as soon as he saw d vastly increased, he applied it libe the idea of making this race, however, or his crop, and as soon as he saw the yield vastly increased, he applied it liberally to every acre planted. I believe this increased use of commercial manures is not a good sign, because it tells plainly what the farmers are doing; it betrays and gives them away. I do not object, but believe in a liberal use of guano in the absence of the compost pile. But let the use be judicious. The farmers of Georgia still raise too much cotton, as long as they buy western meat, corn and flour, they are planting too much cotton. When they can afford to fertilize heavily and the use of commercial manures will be greatly lessened for the acreage in cotton will necessarily be diminished, and then its literal application becomes judicious. I believe the statement not exaggerated when it is asserted that a large portion of the guano used the present year is upon land planted in cotton alone for a number of years, losing much of its natural fertility by being subjected to a leaching process, and hence a heavier application was thought necessary to bring good results. If this considerable area through the state bad been planted in grain, wheat or oats, a proper rotation, or even allowed to for the pull for solicitor general and there Fletcher Marcellus Johnson, of Hall. "The Sixes" is a gold mine up in Cherokee county, and those who are pushing it declare that it will be more than a Klondike. At the organization of direc tors in Atlanta yesterday Judge H. B. Tompkins was named for president and Dr. F. H. Orme vice president. Within two weeks time two big shafts will be sunk and work will commence at once. "The Sixes" has not been worked since 1867 and its history would make a romance of tragic sixe. It was at this mine where the nuggets were found by the Indians who were tortured by DeSoto to make them tell of its location. When wandering about this neck of the woods Ferdinand came across several Indian tribes, the chiefs of which wore huge nuggets of crude gold about their necks. They were queried eagerly by the Spaniards, but tion in regard to the position of the vem. The increased use of fertilizers by the progressive, intelligent farmer is an index to better returns from the farm and a step in the right direction, provided crops are rotated and cotton only planted on same land say once in three years. Intensive, diversified farming has never ceased to pay. The object lesson thus set by the above described farmer is leading others who give less thought to matters progressive to adopt similar methods and bringing forth fruits of reward. Years after it was found to be the Sixes In 1867 it had been operated by a man named Young, who was killed in that rear in Indianapolis. His partners here vere arrested as accessories and exciting levelopments came. After that the mine vas never worked and has remained vacant until taken up by the present company.

General John B. Gordon came in from his matters progressive to a adopt similar methods and bringing forth fruits of reward.

We have some who still insist that it is cheaper to import supplies from the west than to raise them at home; that cotton is king and should be almost exclusively planted in the south. When these latter farmers find that their lands on account of clean culture are washing away, and that those which once responded readily to the tonic of commercial fertilizers are now going back on them, they abandon the old clearings and clean off more land to repeat the same treatment from year to year. To this class of farmers commercial fertilizers are a curse, but we find them growing fewer in numbers and beautifully less.

Taking it all in all. I believe that the increased use of fertilizers, which has not yet reached the maximum paying point, is a sign of advancement and will, if judiciously cortinued, make life on the farm more desirable and profitable.

In my section it cost $\oldots$ to seed and cultivate an acre in cotton. Without fertilizers it would take on an average of five acres to make a 500-pound bale. With the addition of 200 pounds of standard fertilizer to the acre two and a half acres will do it. More money can be made out of 7c cotton from two and a half acres of land properly fertilizer at 9 or even 10 cents per pound.

This early appearance of frost, coming at a time when it is being awaited with eagerness, will have a good eff ct on the situation and will be of great value to Atlanta. Yellow fever, according to eminent and experienced physicians who have had years' experience with it here, cannot live or spread in Atlanta; neither can it live while Jack Frost is abroad, and these two facts taken together prove that there is no chance for fever to exout an existence here. Weather Observer Marbury when asked about the frost yesterday said the thermometer registered the lowest temperature during the night as 31 degrees. He did not seem to think this was cold enough for frost, but said there might have been a very light frost in low, exposed places. Is Willing To Amend the Bill If the General Plan Is Held.

The Report Goes to the Printer. Adams Park Is Offered as Good Site for the Penitentiary.

It is not improbable now that the opposing sides in the sub-committee of the joint committees on penitentiary of the house and senate will get together on Friday, and that a harmonious report will be presented by them to the main body when it meets on October 25th. Representative Hall, chairman of the house com mittee, who framed the bill which the subcommittee has been at work on since its appointment and which was approved last Saturday, was in town yesterday in consultation with Senators Dunwody and Shropshire, of the sub-committee, Governor Atkinson and Judge Turner.

features of his measure which are objected to by the minority, and there is good reason to believe that when the sub-committee meets on Friday the bill will be put in such shape as to secure almost, if not quite, unanimous support. Practically the only section of the bill which forms a basis for the difference of opinion between the two sides is No. 7, but the correction of that will entirely eliminate No. 8. Thes are the sections which give the proposed prison commissioners authority to purchase land indiscriminately, either in Dade county or on the sea islands, or in any part of the state, and to employ the convicts thereon confined pretty much as they see fit, without positive directions as to the ultimate erection of a central peni-

Senator Shropshire, who has done mos of the kicking against the bill, says he will support it if this matter is made definite. and the same can probably be said of Representatives Felder and Dodson, Chairman Cook will unquestionably attach his name to the report, because he has been the ploneer of the definite idea. Representative Thomas still has his heart set on buying a sea island, and it is not improbable that he may present a measure to that effect as a minority report on his own

It begins to look as though these conflict. ing opinions could be harmonized, and Mr. Hall said yesterday that he would gladly take the initiative in making any further hanges in the bill that would strengthen

"I think that every member of the subcommittee is in favor of the general plan and policy for a reform in our convict system that is laid down in the bill," he said, "and I have no doubt that we can all get together on it. The only objection offered is that it does not state specifically enough the location of the proposed penal colony, its size and character and the sort of employment to which the convicts thereon confined shall be put. I am free to say that if the members can find at this time a limitation of the powers of the commission in this respect that will not embarrass them in their work I will gladly vote with them to make it a part of the bill. As it stands today, however, it has seemed to me best to leave the commission unre-

The Report Complete.

Mr. Hall and Senators Dunwody and Shropshire, who were appointed by Chair-man Cook to write the report that will ac-company the bill when it is presented to the joint committee, concluded their labors at noon yesterday and sent their manuscript to the printer to be put in type. The report is a brief one and says that owing to the short time in which the committee had to frame a bill and prepare a report they were unable to do much in the way of inspecting the various pieces of property offered the state for a penitentiary site.

They refer to their Sapelo island visit at some length, and give a distinct boom to real estate in that section of Georgia by compilmenting the agricultural advantages of Sapelo and sounding its praises as a health resort. The tenor of the report is not favorable to the placing of the con-victs on Sapelo or any other sea island, even, except possibly Little Cumberland. owing to their size, inaccessibility and the amount of money necessary to put them in proper shape. All the other pieces of property offered the state are catalogued without other comment than the descriptions furnished by owners or agents.

Just before the last batch of copy was sent to the printer Secretary Hardin re-ceived another land proposition, and he barely had time to get it in the report. It comes from the New England Mortgage and Security Company, of Boston, which tenders the state 16,000 acres of land in Twiggs county, or any part thereof not less than 5,000 acres, for "from four to five dollars per acre." The land is what is known as the Adams Park property, and all part of the state. An Army of Applicants.

Several of the land boomers are still in town, and some of them are trying to get the influence of various state officials to aid them in disposing of their real estate. Governor Atkinson has been a special object of attack, but has good-naturedly re-fused to take any hand in the game. As a matter of fact, the governor is going to have all he can do from now on to take care of the application which are coming to him from all parts of the state for ap-pointment on the proposed commission. Every indication points to the liveliest kind of a scramble for these places, and all acter of men to be selected.

A gentleman who is quite close to the governor in both a political and personal sense said last night:

"The sort of men who will constitute their duties are to be those of inspector or overseers or farmers or manufacturers, they will be men of one sort. If their duties are to be administrative: if they are to plan and equip and maintain such a penitentiary system as Georgia needs and deserves, they will be men of quite a different sort. If the latter is the case, I would not be at all surprised if Governor Atkinson did not select as commissioner single man on the list of applicants."

He says:

"The plan proposed for this is in substance as follows: First, for the state to buy or lease some of the territory which contains the best quarries of road material within its limits; second, to make the necessary railroad connections, having first secured the permanent agreement of all its leading railroad companies to carry road material at the cost of hauling, on condition, if required, of the state furnishing to them a certain amount of track ballast free of charge or at the cost price; third, having created the necessary buildings and provided the best machinery for quarrying and crushing rock, to bring all able-bodied state convicts and put them at this work; fourth, the counties to put their jail prisoners and tramps at the work of grading, draining and preparing the road for macadamizing; fifth, the state) to furnish broken stone free on board cars as its contribution to road improvement.

"The cost to the state, in addition to the maintenance and guarding of convicts would be only that of tuel and oil, explosives and use of machinery, or, according to the Massachusetts commission's report, 66.8 cents per cubic yard of broken stone, amounting, for the 1,200 cubic yards required to lay a single track road nine feet wide and eight inches deep, to $5.60.

"The remaining cost would be the railroad freight, amounting, for an average distance of 100 miles, to not more than 28 cents per mile; the wagon haul, beraging possibly 2½ miles, 30 cents per yard, or 350 per miles, and the roiling, superintendence and incidentals (not including engineering, which would be a general county charge) 10 cents per cubic yard, making the total local cost 68 cents per cubic yard, or 7815 per mile.

"Many of the states are now arranging to establish supply camps at which state convicts can be worked under proper restrictions. California especially will profit by this chaffige; the state prison grounds at Folsom contain an excellent vein of trap rock and crushing rock; there are 700 or 800 idle convicts in the prison who could all be employed in this manner, and the prison authorities find that they can prepare road material and put it on the cars for 20 cents a cubic yard, and pay all the expenses of the prison out or the receipts.

Sale of Hollywood Cemetery Brings Up Quarantine Regulations Again Modified a Unique Fight.

Takes Off Funeral Car.

He Says the Cemetery Company Broke

The funeral car which has been transporting the caskets and mourners from the city to Hollywood cemetery will be taken off this morning and no further funerals will be accommodated by the management of the Collins Park and Belt Rail-road Company.

This announcement was made vesterday at 1 o'clock in front of the courthouse door, when Receiver C. M. Curran began the auction of Hollywood cemetery. Quite a crowd had congregated about the door when Receiver Curran read the order of court authorizing the sale of the cemetery, which is located on the Chattahoochee car line. Just before the bids were opened Colonel C. J. Simmons, president of the railroad company, said he had an announcement to make.

Not only will the funeral car be aban-doned by the railroad company, but, beginning with this morning, the five-cent fare from the city to the cemetery will be discontinued and a fare of 10 cents will be harged, commencing this morning when the first car leaves the power house. The announcement that was made yes-terday was the result of a business trade which was not consummated as at first agreed upon, claims President Simmons, He says he and Mr. W. A. Baker, the original incorporators of Hollywood, entered into a contract when they dissolved partnership by which he was to have title mortgaged to a building and loan association with the other property, and now he does not propose to build up the cemetery with his car line if he does not receive his property. The fourteen acres were sold yesterday with the rest of the property, and the announcement of the railroad com-pany immediately went into effect.

President Simmons's Announcement.

President Simmons's Announcement.

The announcement read by President Simmons yesterday is as follows:

"Notice is hereby given to all persons who contemplate bidding on the property to be sold by the receiver, that the Collins Park and Belt Rallroad Company, a corporation of Fulton county, Georgia, and which company holds under the Atlanta and Chattahoochee River Rallway Company, is in possession of the right of way through the lands described in the advertisement for the sale of the property about to be offered for sale, and has been in possession of the same for some five or six years, under a claim of right and as the owner of the right of way, the same being fifty feet wide, that is, twenty-five feet on either side of the center between the tracks. Said company holds the title to said right of way by a writing and its title to said property is good as against the Hollywood Said company holds the title to said right of way by a writing and its title to said property is good as against the Hollywood Cemetery Company and as against Eady and Mayfield, and as against W. A. Baker and is good as against the world. "Notice is still furter given that from this date on the Collins Park and Belt Railway Company will transport no more funerals and will not haul a corpse on its cars to said Hollywood cemetery or elsewhere, that the fares to the Hollywood cemetery from the city of Atlanta will be 10 cents, that the fares from the far end of this company's line, viz. from Iceville of this company's line, viz. from Iceville cemetery from the city of Atlanta will be 10 cents, that the fares from the far end of this company's line, viz. from Iceville to the cemetery will be 5 cents. This company did agree at one time with W. A. Baker, or rather the Atlanta and Chartahoochee Railway Company, under which company this company holds title to said property, did at one time agree with said Raker that if said Baker would convey to C. J. Simmons, the president of said company, fourteen acres of the sand bottom lying next to and contiguous to Proctor's creek, that the railroad company would furnish transportation to its passenger, and would furnish a funeral car, that is a car upon which a corpse could be transported, allowing the persons engaging the car to load the car with bassengers also, at a sum not exceeding $15 per car. The company has carried out the agreement in good faith to this date; but in some way the said Baker has managed to give a lien upon said property, and the owners of the balance of the cemetery property subject to the lien, and the creditors of said company refuse to allow said Simmons to have the fourteen acres of bottom land; for that reason this notice is given and for that reason the Collins Park and Belt Railway Company will not in the future carry the remains of any deceased person to the cemetery."

Cemetery Goes at Auction. The bidding for the cemetery was lively and exciting, several making bids rapidly. The first sum bid was $5,000 and in a few moments the price went to $10,000, where it lingered a few moments, finally being knocked down to Mr. J. W. Smith, of Gainesville, who, it is said, bought the property in the interest of the creditors. "The company will be improved and developed," said Mr. Smith yesterday after the sale," and we will spend a good deal of money on the property. We will see that the owners of lots on the premises are taken care of in the matter of transportation to and from the city.'

Stock That Was Valued at $100 Per Share Was Claimed by the Bank Under Cassin's Transfer.

The stock of Harry Cassin in the Georgia Loan, Savings and Banking Company was sold yesterday at auction before the door of the courthouse by Sheriff Nelms to satisfy an execution which was levled some time ago on the property of the missing young bank financier. The stock was purchased by Mr. John Broomhead and the bidding, though slow and the price small that was paid, it was lively and interesting, as Banker Coker, the bondsman of Cassin, was the opponent to Mr. Broomhead in the purchase

The interest sold was ten shares of the face value of $100 each. The stock had been issued to Cassin by the bank when the former was the cashier of the bank. Just before the sale began Sheriff Nelms and the bidders were notified that the stock had been transferred to the bank and was no longer the property of Cassin. The announcement, however, doubtless had quite an effect upon the bidding, as the price per share did not exceed $15.36.

The bidding began at $1 and was raised between Broomhead and Coker 5 and 10 cents, sometimes the increase on a bid being t_2 to 1 cent. So tedious was the bidding and so slow the progress made that it required more than an hour in which Sheriff Nelms made the sale.

Each certificate of stock was sold under the protest and announcement of the cash-ier of the bank that the stock had been long since transferred to the bank by Cassin in order to add to the security he had previously given for his alleged Yesterday was the regular monthly saies day of the sheriff and a large amount of property changed hands. Tax Collector Stewart was also on hand, crying off at auction about 200 lots which were sold for the payment of taxes. "It has been one of the biggest sales days yet," said Sheriff Nelms after he had finished acting as auctioneer. "I am loarse and tired and can scarcely speak. Governor Atkinson has been considering the matter for two days and yesterday morning thought he would pardon the boy, but yesterday afternoon he heard that Gyn had been in the penitentiary before, that Governor Northen had consented to his transfer to a northern reformatory and that after his ticket had been bought in Atlanta Gyp escaped and was not heard from for These facts have changed the governor's opinion on the subject, and Gyp's chances for freedom now are rather slim.

DANGER IN SODA.

Serious Results Sometimes Follow Its Excessive Use.

Common soda is all right in its place and ndispensable in the kitchen and for cooking and washing purposes, but it was never intended for a medicine, and people who use it as such will some day regret it. We refer to the common use of sola to relieve heartburn or sour stomach, a habit which theusands of people practice almost daily, and one which is fraught with danger; moreover the soda only gives temporary relief and in the end the stomach trouble gets worse and worse.

The soda acts as a mechanical irritatant to the walls of the stomach and bowels and cases are on record where it accumulated in the intestines, causing heath by inflammation or peritonitis.

Dr. Harlandson recommends as the safest and surest cure for sour stomach (acid dyspepsia) an excellent preparation sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. These tablets are large 20 grain lozenges, very pleasant to taste and contain the natural acids, peptones and digestive elements essential to good diges-tion, and when taken after meals they digest the food perfectly and promptly beson the blood and nervous system. Dr. Wuerth states that he invariably uses

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in all cases of stomach derangements and finds them certain cure not only for sour stomach, bu by promptly digesting the food they create a healthy appetite, increases flesh and strengthen the action of the heart and liver. They are not a cathartic, but intended only for stomach diseases and weakness and will be found reliable in any stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach. All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 cents per package.

PROSPECTUS.

This company has been formed to purchase and work a well-known gold property in Cherokee county, Georgia, consisting of 166 2-3 acres, of which 66 2-3 acres are freehold, namely lot 210 and 26 2-3 acres in lot 211, and 160 acres the minerals and mineral right, namely lots 209, 223 and 10 acres in lot 282, all in the fifteenth district and second section of Cherokee county. It is situated within four miles of Holly Springs railway station, a little north of west from it; about six miles southwest from Canton, the county town, where there is also a railway station. The main road running southwest from Canton pass. s through the property*.

Prior to the outbreak of the late war this district is reputed to have been one of the most celebrated or any in the southern states for the amount and quality of the gold found there. The gold was obtained from placer deposits, and one place, known as the "Dry Hollow." is stated to have furnished half a million dollars; without regular mining. "simply by washing the earth and gravel in pans."

The "Dry Hollow" and the other localities where the great bulk of the gold of this district was found is a little down the stream from this property; many attempts have been made to find on that land the mother lode or vein from which the golden grain was washed, and a shaft has been sunk for eighty feet, chiefly through granite, in one attempt to find such a vein; but thus far no such vein has been found there; while on this property, a few rods only further up the stream, there exists an extremely rich vein of decomposed ore; this decomposed ore, or saprolite, readil? washes down, and the presumption is almost absolutely conclusive that this is the mother lode or vein from which all of that yealth down, and the presumption is almost abso-lutely conclusive that this is the mother lode or vein from which all of that wealth lode or vein from which all of that wealth in the past emanated.

Be that as it may—whether it has or has not ever produced any gold in the past, there can be no doubt that the veins on this property contain large deposits of rich ore, from which the gold can now be readily extracted by chlorination.

The directors have examined the property and have been so strongly impressed with the high value of the ores there that they have entire confidence that the working of the mines will be a credit to them, and the amount of dividends they will be able to pay to the shareholders becoming known. o pay to the shareholders becoming known will be of general benefit to other gold will be of general benefit to other gold properties in the state.

The vein on which most of the exploring work has heretofore been done appears to be over five feet in width of ore, of which the richest part is fifty inches wide. One of the directors had two assays made in February, 1896, of the decomposed ore from twenty-five feet depth; one assay gave $24.18 per ton and the other $32.04.

On the 20th of August, 1897, a special meeting at the mine was called for inspection and examination of the property by and on behalf of the directors. As only brief notice had been given of the proposed visit, there had been no time to unm the water from the shaft. Three pannings of the decomposed ore were made in the presence of the party, and every penning show. the decomposed ore were made in the bres-ence of the party, and every penning show-ed a large amount of free gold in the pan. Samples were taken and sent for assay to Messrs. George P. Good & Co., and the N. P. Pratt Laboratory, of Atlanta, with the

In 1867 a shaft was sunk on this vein, the work being done under the direction of Mr. I. I. Hughes, now living at Kennesaw, who states that they went down something over eighty feet, and at that depth the ere was much of it solid, and the vein eight feet in width, and that a ton of the ore shipped north returned $323 to the ton.

in width, and that a ton of the ore shipped north returned $223 to the ton.

The general report from those who have worked most on and about this vein is that the ore will probably exceed an average of $50 per ton, with many streaks occurring very much richer than that.

Messrs, Fraser & Chalmers, limited, of Chicago, New York, London, etc., the widely known builders of mills and plants for gold and silver mines, etc., have given an estimate for a twenty-stamm mill, with Corliss engine, tubular bollers, concentrators, furnaces, chlorination plant, complete, guaranteed first-class in all details and in all respects, free on heard at Chicago for ... $16,100.00

arranged modern mill, with a plant naving a capacity to mill and treat eighty tons of ore per day, the net profit would be $1,840 per day, or $52,000 per year of 300 working days.

But, of course, as spon as the directors find that they can reiy upon $25 per ton, or more, and that ore enough can be put out to keep a larger mill busy, they will ask the consent of the shareholders to use some of the profits, or issue more of the shares, to put up a larger plant, thereby to still further increase the dividends.

The price of the property has been fixed at $400,000, of which $15,000 is to be in cash and $385,000 in shares of the company; of the $15,000 is cash one-third is to be paid on taking possession, and the remaining two-thirds can remain until after the $35,000 required for the mill, etc., as above set forth, has been found.

The Robinson gold mine, Johannesburg, which is giving a larger return than any other mine in south Africa, shows the following results: "During the year 1895, 140,655 tons were crushed, yielding 120,113 ounces of gold, an average of 17.07 pennyweights per ton; 75,825 tons of tailings were treated, yielding 22,157 ounces, an average of 5.84 pennyweights per ton; and 14,938 ounces were obtained from concentrates, making the total for the year 157,208 ounces of gold. And the total for 1897 was "187,208 ounces" of gold. The ores are more refractory than the Georgia ores and both the cultrination and the cyanide processes are used. The total value obtained is less than $24 per ton, and the cost of working is more than three times as much as it should be with a good modern mill in Georgia. The net profits amount to over $1,800,000 per year. In 1887 the original £1 shares were called in and ten shares of £5 each issued instead—that is, for every dollar in the original capital the holders have been given $50, and the new shares stand at a premium.

And this Sixes property shows cogent evidence that it can preduce larger profits than the Robinson, for the ore assays disher and can be worked at m much as in Georgia.

The "Homestake" and numerous other mines, with sulpturetted ores, as in Georgia, that are treated by chlorination, are turning out large dividends on ores yielding less than $5 per ton, and where the cost of working is much greater than in Georgia.

The directors invite a careful consideration of the

The directors invite a careful consucration of the foregoing faces.

The total working capital is $100,000.00, but the directors will not now issue over one-half of the amount, except at a premium for the balance.

Applications for shares should be made on the form accompanying the prospectus; and together with a deposit of 40 cents per share, should be forwarded to the bankers of the company, the Atlanta National Bank, atlanta; the ralance is payable on allotment.

If no allotment be made, all application money will be restricted in full.

The Man Whom Brown Said Was His Fatal Double

EVANS ADMITS HIS GUILT

Forgery Cases Against C. M. Brown Brought Up-"The Fellow That Looked Like Me."

Yesterday morning J. P. Evans, a young man who works with the Southern rail-road, was arrested by Patrolman W. F. Whitley on a charge of forgery. He was taken before Justice Foute in the afternoon, where he entered a plea of guilty

Evans went to the Maddox-Rucker bank with a check for $7.50 signed by J. F. Bar-clay & Co. He was told by the paying teller that he would have to be identified before the check could be cashed. The young man departed and presently returned with a note written on the letter head of J. F. Barclay & Co., and signed by that firm, stating that the bearer was the proper person to get the check cashed. Upon this showing the teller paid Evans the money. Later it was discovered that both the check and note were forgeries. Evans had gone into the undertaking establishment of Barclay & Co., and asked permis sion to write a note, using the firm's letter head. This was after he had been to the bank teller. The arrest of Evans recalls another arrest for forgery a few days ago in which a great injustice seems to have been done an innocent young man. C. M. Brown was arrested on a charge of forging three or four cheeks on the Atlanta National bank. He stoutly affirmed his innocence, and said he was the victim of a man "who looked like him." The whole story was published in The Constitution, giving Brown's state-ment about the man who was his double. On the day after Brown's arrest, Evans called at the police barracks and said he was the man to whom Brown was referring and he wanted to be set straight. When Brown saw Evans, he exclaimed:

"There is the fellow who looks like me, and he is the man who forged those However, Brown was identified as the forger by the bank officials, and he was taken before a justice of the peace and taken before bound over. Now comes the arrest of Evans, the very man whom Brown accused of committing the other forgeries, and Evans by his own admission stands convicted. So the officers believe now that Evans committed the forgeries of which Brown was accused. Evans is one of the best known charac-ters about the police barracks. Hardly a day has passed in several months but he has been at the barracks. He very frequently attended the sessions of the police court and took a keen interest in the trials.

MEDICAL COLLEGE OPENS. College of Eclectic Medicine and Surgery Begins Its 58th Year.

The doors of the Georgia College of Eclectic Medicine and Surgery were thrown open yesterday morning and about thrown open yesterday morning and about 100 students entered to take up the study of the curing of human physical ills. It is the beginning of the fifty-eighth year of the college and the prospects are pronounced to be the Lest that it has had in many years. President Thomas called the body of students to order yesterday morning in the assembly hail of the college and in a few words pointed out the intended work for the year and gave those who were present a warm welcome to the institution. Active work will be begun today.

One change has been made in the faculty. The vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. J. H. Goss has been illed by Dr. B. L. Shimnons, of Tennessee. The other members of the faculty remain the same as last year.

Donations is Very Hopeful.

SERVICES AT THE SYNAGOGUE CANDIDATES ARE MAKING KICK INSTRUCTIONS TO MANAGERS FINAL REPORT IN TWO WEEKS

Committee Expects No Trouble in Securing the Necessary Donations.

Commissioners Have Assured Committee That County Will Help Pay for the Improvement.

The special committee of Whitehall street citizens appointed to confer with property owners with the view of securing donations of frontage to widen that thoroughfare has made a report to the mayor and general, council which indicates that the work assigned to the com-mittee is progressing very satisfactorily and that the committee will soon be able o submit a very satisfactory and final eport of its labors.

The committee is composed of Messrs.

J. J. Maddox, T. H. Sappington and L. P. Thomas, and they are of the opinion that there will be no trouble in securing the necessary donations of property. The committee desires the council to keep in view the proposed improvement of Whitehall in considering the apportionment expenditures for next year and asks that the council be prepared to join the county commissioners in bearing one-half of the expense for the work, provided the necessary donations of property frontage are made by owners of the property inter-

NO BURGLARY DEVELOPMENTS. Police Still Working on the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. Case. The expected developments in the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company burglary did not take place yesterday as promised by the police authorities. It is still believed there will be startling developments when the case is worked to a finish by the police and detectives.

Yesterday morning a negro was arrested who had his left arm badly cut, and it was thought that he was the man who jumped through the transom of the store. But it was ascertained that he was cut in a fight. Another negro was held who had been missing from his home two or three days, but it was also shown that he was not one of the guilty parties.

It is said that the hackman seen on Trinity avenue has been located by the police, but this will neither be denied nor

The movement of the companies began, the commands of the officers reverberated through the air, and the galloping of flery steeds and the quick step of the soldiers made a scene of great activity.

The regiment was drawn up and the ad jutant reported to the colonel. He gave his orders and accompanied by the adjutant and the two battalion commander proceeded to make a minute inspection of the eight companies. They were drawn up in column of companies. Their general appearance, arms, knapsacks and gloves were all examined and any lack of discipline was noticed by the colonel.

From the first sergeant to the big bass drum of the band everything was seen and approved. Led by the band playing the "Honeymoon" march, the regiment marched by the reviewing officers. Atlanta Football Team To Play in Central City Monday.

AN EVENT OF THE CARNIVAL

Governor Atkinson and Staff Will Witness the Game-Contest with Techs Yesterday.

The Young Men's Christian Association football team of Atlanta will open the sea-son in Macon next Monday afternoon with a game against the Central City boys.

The contest will be one of the special features of the carnival.

The local team is training hard for the game and Captain Raines promises to have one of the strongest elevens in the south before many weeks. The team is composed mostly of college boys who have been experts at the game during school days The Macon team is also very strong. Manager J. Hoit Virgin has his men in active training and will give the Atlanta boys a hard fight Monday afternoon. The average weight of both elevens is about 165, making both about evenly matched. Governor Atkinson and staff have accepted an invitation of the Macon caraival managers to be present during the celebra-tion, and he will probably go down Monday morning with the football team to witness the game. The contest will be played in Central City park immediately after the grand floral parade to be given under the direction of the ladies of Macon.

The Atlanta team played their first game of the season against the Techs yesterday afternoon on the North Avenue gridiron. The contest was exciting throughout, and resulted in a score of 6 to 6. The Tech eleven is in good condition and with more training will be one of the strongest teams on the southern gridiron this fall. They have a game scheduled with the univer-sity and will make it warm for the boys from the Classic City.

Brokers Away.

Favorable Factors Effectual Only for a Time and Prices of Most Stocks Closed Lower.

NO DISPOSITION TO TRADE

New York, October 5 .- Not for many weeks has Wall street seen so dull a day as this was. It was offered as an explanation that the eve of the Jewish day of atonemient called many brokers and opera-tors from the street. But there was apart from this a manifest disposition to refrain from trading, and to leave the market to the fallow for a time. Yesterday's sharp reaction apparently admonished the bulls that conditions are not yet ready for a resumption of the advance. The favorable factors which developed during the day, although they affected for a time the invidual stocks to which they applied, were ineffective in causing a general advance, and prices of most stocks closed lower tonight. Union Pacific was exceptionally firm and practically recovered from yesterday's decline owing to the discredit attaching to reports of an English syndi-cate's intention to outbid the reorganiza-tion committee at the approaching for-closure sale. Leuisville and Southern preferred were sust ained by their good showing of earnings. All of the traffic statements at hand slowed notable increase in earnings, but not all of the stocks of the roads affected derived any benefit. Union Pacific was assisted as well by a report that its differences over traffic exchange with the Oregon Short Line had been ad-justed. The latter stock was also strong during the day. The principal activity centered in the specialties, and the trading in them was largely bused on vague rumors that had nothing to do with the general situation. Actual rates for sterling exchange fell ac for sight and the for long. led to increasee talk of early gol imports. Additional deposits of gold, which were received from San Francisco, were made at a clearing house bank today, and the continued in crease of the gold reserve in the United States freasury even in the face of an excess of disbursements over receipts is additional evidence of the abundant supply of gold at present in the country. Paine, Murphy & Co.'s Stock Letter. Atlanta, October 5.-The stock market was full of irregularity today. The bear of unsettled political prospects and the revival of Bryanism.

Talk of interference with the plans of the Union Pacific reorganization syndicate at the foreclosure sale was also in-dulged in with some effect. The traders were apparently indifferent to the continued large increases reported in railroad earnings

After a heavy opening, the market enjoyed a material rally with Sugar, Louisville and Nashville, Manhattan and Jersey Central leading the Improvement.

In the afternoon, however, the gains of the morning were wiped out in most instances. The bear pressure was increased in the late dealings on the theory that the demonstration of tonight in favor of the Henry George ticket would

The Post's Financial Cable.

New York, October 5.—The Evening Post's London financial cablegram says: Post's London financial cablegram says:
The stock markets were quieter and irregulat today, the falling off in speculation bear entirely due probably to the fact that tomerrow will be a strict Jewish holiday. Mines were easier.

Americans opened lower in sympathy with theNew York close of yesterday. They closed strong, however, on New York support and with a steady increase of interest on this side. American bills are freely offered teday for discount.

The Paris and Berlin markets were firm. Vienna bourse was calm considerfirm. Vienna bourse was calm consider-ing the heavy failure in Vienna.

Atwood Violett, Lockwood & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, October 5.—(Special.)—An advance we together with many others here have been expecting for a week past was realized today to a considerable extent. The course of prices shows the buying of January between 6.30 and 6.40, and other months on that basis that has accumulated since January has been seiling within that range, indicates that it is more than a simple sealping interest. Shorts, when they began to cover today found that the realizing by longs was not to the extent that ordinarily it would have been, and, consequently, as new sellers were not materializquently, as new sellers were not materializ-ing, they bid the market up on themselves on the results already known. A feeling continues here and hereabouts in favor of cotton, but to create a substantial or permanent improvement of course requires a general spot demand, which, while thus far it has not developed, may do so with any further advance in contracts.

The Dry Goods Market.

Closed steady : sales 38,500 bales

New York, October 5.-The dry goods market is still without feature, conditions being such as to preclude heavy trading, though reports of the movement goods at second hand, with retallers ing, though reports of the movement of goods at second hand, with retailers seem to point to heavier buying at a later date. At present the demand on the spot and by mail order is light in both cotton and woolen goods. In stapic cottons the demands for brown sheeting is of modest dimensions. Print cloths are quite active at the reduced quotation of 2½c for extras at Fall R.ver. After refusing to sell at 2 9-16c, manufacturers seem willing to part with goods at the lower figures, as is evidenced by the sale of 50,000 pieces of extras spots and futures late vesterday. This has been followed by other sales today, both of sixty-four squares and odd goods, and the week will probably be a heavy one in the amount of goods disposed of. The heavy stocks now carried are still a burden to manufacturers, and this fact is well known to buyers. Prints are universally in better shape than staple good cottons. Sales of staple calicoes and the prices for the same are generally well sustained. well sustained.

Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, October 6,-(Special.)-There was considerable activity in the cotton market today. At one time the market was quite buoyant, but this feeling disappeared before the close. The early cables from Liverpool reported an advance of 2-8id there. This was supplemented later by a further advance of 1½ points. The market here opened firm 207 points above last night's prices. Recepts were quite light, and this, together with a better demand for actual cotton, seemed to have caused some revulsion of feeling in favor of the market. Buying orders were plentiful, and in spite of liberal selling by New Orleans and Liverpool, prices advanced further. The rise attracted considerable liquidation. As a result part of the advance was lost in the afternoon. A weekly crop bulletin, made up by government authorities in New Orleans, was read and was strongly bullish. As usual, however, with such reports, it was ignored. January opened at 6.48, eased to 6.45 and advanced to 6.33, declined to 6.46 and closed at that figure, with the tone of the market steady. We think well of cotton. market today. At one time the market was

Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, October 5.—Our advance of yesterday stimulated the demand in foreign markets and our cables stated that Manchester is more disposed to buy cotton. On this information our market opened with a firm undertone and local traders assisted in obtaining a further advance. They have been looking for a reaction several days, and their purchases sustained this marget above the Liverpool parity. Some buying for Wall street account was a feature, as was the selling by export houses who bought freely in the south last week without hedging. A substantial advance from the lowest quotations has been established and will be maintained if there is a change in crop ideas. If not we will lose a portion of the improvement, as, while there is a growing disposition to regard present prices as low, it is not yet showing enough to withstand an increase in the movement, which might bring too heavy a weight upon this, which is now the highest market. Exporters selling against their southern purchases was the feature of the afternoon. The close was tame and Liverpool is expected to be better fomorrow, and traders will not be short, feating the bureau. Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

Paine, Murphy & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, October 5.—The cotton market today has shown greater speculative activity and a firmer undertone than for some time past. Indications point to a gradual change in sentiment and a growing feeling in favor of cotton. The sharacter of private cables from Liverpool has been favorable, indicating a better feeling in Manchester, an apprehension on the part of the speculative element in the Liverpool market, of a poor bureau report on the Joth and a disposition to discount same. A net advance in the Liverpool arrival market from 3 to 3½ points confirms the private advices received, and was responsible for an opening improvement here of 3 to 7 points. Under the improved demand for speculation and investment prices gradually advanced after the opening until noon, a net gain of 11@12 points had been established. Toward the close part of early advance was lost on account of realizing profits. The final close was 5 to 7 points over yesterday; tone steady. There is less talk in New York of a mammoth crop this season and more disposition to reduce estimates, owing to the relative moderate movement and the continued unfavorable crop advices.

The weekly report published in New Orleans today confirms previous unfavorable crop advices and states that indications favor little or no top crop. Reports of this character must eventually have some influence upon the minds of the trade and will result in a considerable increase in the demand and both from spinners and from outside speculative element. In fact there is already noticeable a broadening demand, especially from the south, for cotton based upon its apparent cheapness, and at the same time castem spinners are buying Paine, Murphy & Co.'s Cotton Letter cotton more freely than heretofore. The feeling at the moment is rather in favor of a further advance.

Estimated port receipts today. 54,983 bales, against 66,100 last year. New Orleans expects tomorrow 12,000 to 14,000, against 16,287 last year; Houston 9,000 to 10,000 cmcs, against 10,965 last year.

The Live Stock Market.

Chicago, Octobe, 6.-Trade in cattle was rather slow and prices favored buyers in a great many instances, heavy natives and undesirable cattle generally selling very unsatisfactory. Native cattle sold all the way from $3.80@4.50 for common to medium dressed beef grades up to $5@5.40 for choice dressed beef grades up to $5@5.40 for choice to extra shipping beeves, with sales largely at $4.60@5.10, numerous lots of western fed steers going for $3.85@5.10. Native butchers' and canners' stuff sold better than might be expected at a time when range cattle are being marketed so freely. Cows and helfers sold at $1.75@4.50 and bulls at $2.20@4.25. Calves were in rather good supply and in fairly active demand at steady prices. Texas cattle showed no particular change, and cattle from the western ranges were fairly active, the offerings consisting largely of feeders, canners, cows and helfers.

Offerings of hogs were heavy and buyers succeeded in forcing a further decline of for per 100 pounds. Sales were made of heavy packing lots at $3.4593.75 and choice light assorted hogs at $4.1594.22½, the bulk of the hogs fetching $3.75@4.10. Pigs were numerous, and sold largely at $3.603.80, commoner lots going for $2.251.3.50.

Trade in sheep and lambs was fairly active at declining prices, lambs showing the most weakness. Native sheep sold at $2.25@4. western range sheep at $3.04, native lambs at $3.63 and western lambs at $4.50@4.85. Feeders' sheep lots sold largely at $3.60@3.65 with ewes selling as low as $3.40. Receipts—Cattle, 6,500; hogs, 25,000; sheep 20,000. Offerings of hogs were heavy and buyers

Followed Foreign Lead and Clesed at Two Cents Advance.

DROUGHT NEWS INFLUENCED

Corn Strong and Higher-a0ts 1-8c Higher-Provisions Neglected and Lower.

Chicago, October 5.-The local wheat market today followed the lead of the foreign markets and closed strong at an advance of 2c over yesterday. Foreigners were good buyers of cash grain and were evidently much impressed with the drought in America and in Argentina. Corn was strong, but advanced only 1/2%c. Oats closed 1/2c higher. Provisions were neglected and weak in consequence, closing 5@10c ower.

Drought at home and strong markets abroad were the influences which were uppermost in the wheat market when busiess began. Buyers took hold with more confidence, while short sellers and in fact all kinds of sellers were inclined to be more cautious. Liverpool cables opened at an advance of %d over night and subsequently advanced to 1d above yesterday's closing. In the pit there were buying or-ders for December wheat coming direct from Paris, though the quantity thus bought was not large enough to attract general attention. The predictions for con-tinued fair weather for the next thirty-six hours in all of the winter and spring wheat territory was very disappointing to those who had expected that yesterday's light showers in the northwest would bed heavier and extend down into the winter wheat country. The fact that northwestern receipts were large was not sufficient to offset the effect of the dry weather. The wheat arrivals at Minneapolis and Duluth were 1.669 cars, against 1.875 a week ago and 1.289 for the corresponding week last year. 1.289 for the corresponding week last year. Chicago receipts were 556 cars. December, which closed yesterday at 89%c, opened today at $3%,@30%c, with a few small lots selling as low as $4%c. The price soon advanced to 30%c. Foreigners were liberal and persistent buyers of futures here and in all other American markets. The closing advance in Paris was equal to 1%. Liverpool was up 11%d and Antwerp was up 11% ool was up 11/2d and Antwerp was up 11/4c. Today's seaboard engagements were re-ported at 68 boatloads. The weekly reports of the Great Northern road confirmed those of a large number of correspondents cov-ering a wide area in the northwest that hrashing returns were disappointing, and hat previous estimates would have to be reduced. A very sharp spurt in the price at Duluth gave color to the stories. Reports of drought in the Argentine came from very conservative sources, and from the fact that foreigners bought not only wheat, but corn and rye in this market and preas though the European centers were get-ting stirred up again. The market grew very strong toward the close. The firmness of closing cables and the anxiety of foreigners to purchase wheat scared the shorts who have been having their own way for some time past. December sold up to 91%c, finally, and closed firm at that

Corn was strong in the continuation of the drought, in sympathy with the strength in wheat and on good general buying. The in wheat and on good general buying. The volume of business was not large during the early hours, but a strong demand developed as the session advanced, both from local shorts and for foreign account. The strength at Liverpool also attracted attention. Receipts were 586 cars. Atlantic clearances were 178,000 bushels. December ranged between 21% and 194c, closing 1/40 %c higher at 29%c. Offerings were liberal at that figure.

Oats were firm, affected somewhat by the wheat advance but also largely by the drought. There was an advance early in the day on urgent buying. This demand dropped off later, and part of the advance drought. There was an advance early in the day on urgent buying. This demand dropped off later, and part of the advance was lost. Cash demand was excellent. Recelpts were 532 cars. December ranged from 19% to 19%c. closing %c higher at 19%c. Provisions were very low. The opening was lower because of liberal rece,pts of hogs here and the lower yard prices. The market railled slightly with grain, but grew weak again and remained in that condition for the rest of the session. Moderate January offerings by packers were about the only feature to trading. At the close December pork was 7% 100 lower at $3.108.12%, December lard 5007% lower at $4.50 and December ribs 5c lower at $4.70. Paine, Murphy & Co.'s Grain Letter. Atlanta, October 5.—The news on wheat today has been bullish and the market re-sponded with a good advance, selling up 2c per bushel from yesterday's close. The continued firmness in Liverpool and the un-broken drought caused a withdrawal of selling orders by the bears and induced broken drought caused a withdrawal of selling orders by the bears and induced short-covering, while the strength in the northwestern markets, St. Louis and New York and reports from the seaboard of large export engagements, caused a demand for long account. Liverpool closed from 161% higher for futures. Paris was 25 centimes and Antwerp was unchanged to 25 centimes higher. The continuation of drought is beginning to attract considerable attention and while bulls say that it has proved unprofitable in the past to bull wheat on dry conditions in the fall of the year, they are quite conservative, on account of the vast area this season that is affected. Prime's report today was bullish on prevalling conditions, and was one of the considerations on the bull side. The export demand at the seaboard, according to New York dispatches, and the business transacted, was largely for continental account. There were also some export orders for Rye at New York from France and a fair export demand for this cereal in the Chicago marker. About the only bear features are the continued heavy receipts in the morthwest. The cose suggests a higher opening tomorrow unless foreign advices should come disappointing or the drought be relieved by a rain.

Corn has been strong in sympathy with wheat and the strength noted in Liverpool, the latter-market closing 1/401d sigher. St. Louis reports a good export business transacted, principally for French account.

Oats have been firm, but there was nothing important in the way of news.

Provisions—The large receipts at Chicago and western points and the disappointing exports last week had a bearish effect on the provision market, but owing to the strength in grain, prices held steady. Packers were moderate sellers of products.

sensible American women meeting and wasting their time in the development of any such organization. Such a movement on the part of American women who should be in their independence of the yoke of monarchy for which the heroes of this country fought and suffered and died, is one that deserves the contempt of all sensible people and is a species of American snobbery that reflects on that element of sllly, undignified women. In these days of progress in every line among American men and women who are fast building up their country where it ranks in dignity with that of any other, and In dignity with that of any other, and above all presents the glory of a republic, it seems distoyal not to say absurd to hear of even a small band of women pub-licly acknowledging their interest in an organization that can add to their dignity as women absolutely nothing, but rather place in ridicule the names they at present bear. And when it is considered that the ancestors whose names these queens have buried whose have hunted up and to whom they may choose to trace their pedigree may have been driven to this great republic to escape the yoke of royalty, the idea of perpetuathe yoke of royalty, the idea of perpetuating such memorics is rather inconsistent, to say nothing of their indusgence in mockish imitations of the manners and titles of those royal beings who may have even persecuted their subjects, fleeing to this land of freedom and democracy.

It is not surprising that in its incipiency It is not surprising that in its incipiency the organization felt its incapacity to exist in harmony, and that the spirit of American independence overcame Queen Carrie Lupton, who refused to bow allegiance to the queen of queens, Lavinia Denpsey—and who has declared her chapter entirely independent of the great Dempsey monarch. The latter, however, has still about her a court sufficient to warrant her coronation at the Waldorf at an early date. Mr. Jobnson, and

Captain and Mrs. W. B. Miles announce the engagement of their daughter, Maude, to Mr. Jesse Johnson, of this city, the wedding to occur on the evening of October 19th. The wedding will be a home ceremonial and will be attended only by the intimate friends and the relatives of the bride and groom. No cards will be issued. The wedding, although a quiet home affair, will be a beautiful and impressive one. The bridal couple will be attended by the maid of honor, Miss Leo Marhead, a cousin of the bride, and by Mr. Ed Miles, the groom's best man. The bride will wear white mull and the maid of honor will wear white mull over blue silk. Dr. E. H. Barnett will perform the ceremony. The bridal couple are well known in Atlanta. Miss Miles is the accomplished daughter of Captain W. B. Miles, and is very popular in the city. She is of the brunette type, and besides being very popular socially, is a very lovely young wo padour in front and a low, soft, oblong man. The committee, which was composed of representatives of all of the states west of the Mississippi to the number of about sixty, became the guests of the people. All the doors of all the railway trains and hotels were open to them, the free use of the telegraph lines was tendered, carriage drives, excursions on the water, banduets and oyster bakes filled in the time for two or three weeks. The essence of southern hospitality, however, was voiced in a telegram which the president of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad, who was in New York at the time, sent to the chief counselor of the company. A SIGNIFICANT MOVEMENT IS NOW ON

Fore Same Reason Fight Will Not Be Madge Against Walter Johnson. What the Call Says.

Here is the call for the republican state It will come on October 21st, and it is expected that every county in the state will be represented. The movement is strong against the present administration and it is said that Buck will come in for his share of criticism. There has been a significant change of late however, and what this means will not be shown until the session of the convention.

At the meeting of the county executive committee, which made the present call, it was stated that the main object for the convention was the decapitation of Walter Johnson, the United States Marshal, who was detailed by Buck as the chairman of the office illegally. In consequence of all this threats were nade against Johnson and the meeting was directed against him Since then, for some unknown reason, sen-timent has veered and in the present call t is stated that no change will be made in the organization of the party. It is stated that no change will be made in the organization of the party. Following is the official call;

"Atlanta, Ga., October 5, 1897.—To the Chairman and Secretary of the Republican County Executive Committees of Georgia. Gentiemen: In pursuance to a resolution passed by the Fuiton county republican executive committee, held in the city of Atlanta, Ga., on the 9th of September last, and also in response to the request of a large number of you gentlemen, a meeting of the chairmen and secretaries of the county republican executive committees and the chairmen and secretaries of the various wards and militia districts as part of the county organizations, is hereby called to be held in the state capitol, at Atlanta, on Thursday the 21st day of October, at 10 o'clock a. m. This meeting is called for the purpose of bringing about, a closer union of the various county organizations of the state and to plan for the work ahead of the party in 1828, and will in no wise interfere with the present state organization. Those attending this meeting will request a certificate from the railroad agent at the starting points certifying that they paid full fare; should certificate be not quest a certificate from the railroad agent at the starting points certifying that they paid full fare; should certificate be not obtainable at starting point, then purchase tickets to the next nearest point, where such certificate can be obtained. These certificates will be brought to the convention, where they will be authenticated, thus entitling all such to return at 1 cent per mile. Kleptomania was the theme of discussion esterday in the city criminal court, where Tom Green was on trial on the charge of larceny. The prisoner sat and listened to the testimony of witnesses and the arguto make his statement, he emphatically ber of stated that he stole the coat of the negro who worked in Grant park. He did not know why he stole the coat. He said he left his coat in place of the coat the negro had worn. "There is the story upon which this case hangs," said Attorney Linton Hopkins, the coat. He does not attempt to shield himself nor deny the act. This man has been in the insane asylum and he is not law for what he is now accused of. He says he had no reason for taking the coat and this, indeed, seems probable, since he had a coat which was just about as good, if not better, than the one he took."

"He had every reason in the world to exchange coats with the negro." interrupted Solicitor O'Neill. "The coat of the negro's was a heavy one and winter was coming on was a neavy one and winter was coming on and the weather was getting cold. Green's coat was a light one. That is not just kleptomania alone, for it is good, sound common sense. He did about as any sane man would have done who had on a thin coat and saw an opportunity to get a heavy, warm coat for the winter."

The jury disagreed with Green on the theory of kleptomania. It retired to its room after the evidence and argument had been heard and quickly returned a verdet of guilty. On metion of Mr. Hopking to the coat of guilty.

patriotic principles is the account recently given of a disagreement in that royal society, The Holland Dames of the New Netherlands. This royal society was founded about a year ago by a Miss Lavinia Dempsey, of New York, who resolved that its government should be a monarchy: that its ruler should be a "queen," and the dames her vassals. Chapters were established among the aristocratic dames of other states, whose heads or rulers were termed "queens." An important part of the constitution was a regulation bjected Queen Carrie Lupton, head of the Connecticutt chapter. It was at the first luncheon given at the Holland nd on the occasion of Queen Lavinia Dempsey's suggestions as to her formal tion ceremonies will be observed with royal precision and solemnity.

The disagreement between the two queens was the subject of several published let-ters, in which the titles "queen," "royal highness," etc., were freely exchanged be tween the royal factions of Dempsey and Lupton. The final separation of the New York chapter and that of Connecticut is explained in the following letter published in a New York Sunday paper:

"I notice in the Sunday edition of September 26, 1897, that the Connecticut Holland Dames will assist Miss Lavinia H. Dempsey, of No. 64 West Seventieth street, at her corenation and ball in January.

"Allow me to say that I resigned from her society some time ago, and that 'Connecticut Holland Dames of the New Netherlands' and myself are not in the say of the New Netherlands' and myself are not in the say of the New Netherlands'.

BRY WEATHER HAS BEEN BAD ON PASTURES

Cotton Is Opening Rapidly and Farmers Are Gathering It as Fast as Possible.

The weekly crop bulletin for the week ending October 4, 1897, was issued by Weather Forecaster J. B. Marbury, who section director for the Georgia section. The report shows that the weather has ocen dry in the northern portion of the state, with an abundance of sunsinhe. Showers have fallen in the southern porion. Cotton is opening faster than it can be picked and farmers are using every effort to gather it before it is damaged.
It is announced that the bulletin issued yesterday is the last of this season, but the issuing of them will be resumed in the spring of 1898.

The report is as follows:

"Dry weather and abundant sunshine have been the characteristic features in the northens and middle divisions, while showers mave fallen in most counties in south Georgia. Where no rain has fallen growing crops, such as late gardens, turnips, cabbages, etc., are suffering for moisture. Cotton picking has been pushed vigorously, as pearly the entire crop is open and should be picked before it is damaged by rain. The yield of cotton is short, but the quality is generally good. It is thought that nearly all will have been saved by the last week in this month. Corn is being gathered, and about an average crop will be made. Rain is now needed for fall plowing and seeding.

Northern Division. General Review.

Northern Division. "Throughout the northern counties the drought has continued unbroken, and there has been almost continuous sunshine. The days have been quite warm, but low tem-perature has prevailed at night. Cotton picking is progressing uninterruptedly. It s opening more rapidly than it can be picked. The staple is very good and white picked. The staple is very good and white and farmers are bending their energies toward saving as much of it as possible before it is injured by rain. The weather has been especially favorable for this work and gathering corn, but has been disastrous to fall gardens, turnips and pastures. Corn has been injured by protracted drought. Wells and springs are drying up and cattle are suffering for water in some counties. Pea vines and hay crop almost a failure in consequence of drought. Fall cabbage and irish potatoes are not at all good. Sorghum making is now in progress. The cane is said to be pithy, with but little juice. Raios are badly needed to enable farmers to plow and prepare for seeding.

Middle Division.

"No rain has fallen in this division during the week and growing vegetation is at a standstill. Water is sinking in wells and streams are very low. Turnips are parching and dying for want of moisture. Cotton jeking has been pushed vigorously and more than half the crop has been saved. In some counties picking is over. Pinders and field peas are being gathered. Pastures are drying up and cattle on the ranges are not looking well. Cotton is good in quality but short in yield. The dry weather has been most favorable to open cotton. Peas are drying up and the crop will be small. Sugar cane on uplands is too short in many instances to grind, while on lowlands it is fairly good. Fall gardens are about ruined by protracted drought and the turnip crop will be short. Corn is being gathered and there will be about an average yield. Potatoes are fairly good. Rain is now needed to enable farmers to prepare land for fall seeding. 'No rain has fallen in this division dur

Southern Division.

Southern Division.

'In the southern division of the state the weather has been somewhat varied during the past seven days; in the southeastern counties stormy weather prevailed on several days with high northeast winds and some rain. These winds caused yery high tides, which damaged rice in some sections. This division of the state has been more favored, so far as rain is concerned, than either the middle or northern. Cotton picking dontinues and a large portion of the crop has been saved. The entire crop is open. Corn is being gathered and nearly an average crop is made. Cane is fair in most sections. Pinders are good, but the crop of sweet potatoes is short. Turnips are doing fairly well, but in some localities need rain. Pastures are not very good, but are much better than in either of the upper divisions of the state. Some farmers are saving a good crop of hay.

'Note.—With this number the issue of the weekly bulletin ceases for the present season. The publication will be resumed in the spring of 1898. In behalf of the honorable secretary of agriculture and the chief of the weather bureau, the director extends his thanks to each of the correspondents who has rendered him valuable aid in the compilation of the bulletins during the season just closed, and hopes to have their co-operation next season. The interest in the bulletin has increased rapidly, as is shown by the

RISKED HIS LIFE TO SAVE A CHILD

Issue Ceases for Present, but Will Be Brave Act of an Atlanta Policeman Mrs. McDade Says Her Husband Beat Yesterday Afternoon. Her Child Brutally.

DRY IN NORTHERN DIVISION STOPPED A RUNAWAY HORSE HE STRUCK HER ON THE EAR

It Was the "Giant Policeman," Adolphus, Who Did the Fearless Act.

A THRILLING SCENE ON PRYOR STREET The Policeman Was Modest and Hid

His Hand, Which Was Bruised and Swollen.

There was a thrilling scene on North Pryor street yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock when a police officer bravely rescued a little child from death beneath a horse's feet.

It was Atlanta's "glant policeman," Patrolman Adolphus, who risked his life in order to stop the frantic horse, and it took all his power to check the animal's speed. A few minutes before 4 o'clock a horse attached to a road cart, near the Pryor street entrance to the Kimball house, suddenly took fright, possibly at a passing train, as his head was turned in the direc-tion of the railroad crossing. The frighten-ed animal leaped forward and then wheeled around and started up North Pryor street at a mad gallop.

There were several other vehicles on the street and the runaway horse, in endeavor-ing to avoid them, dashed close to the sidewalk.

Patrolman Adolphus saw the runaway as he was standing near the corner of Pryor and Decatur streets. He started in the direction the horse was coming, when he discovered that there was on the sidewalk a little baby in a carriage rolled along by its nurse. The negro nurse did not appear to see the danger she and the child were in. The officer saw that the horse, as h swung the cart toward the sidewalk, would run over the child if he was not stopped. It took the brave policeman but a moment to decide and he rushed straight in front of the maddened steed. Those who saw him held their breath, for it seemed as if he would surely be trampled to death. The giant policeman's tall and heavy form came into good service. He seized a firm hold on the reins near where they were fastened to the bits. It was a quick and good catch, and then he began to jerk with all his strength at the bits. For fully twenty feet the officer was dragged, but he never slackened his hold as he furiously. The efforts of the officer to stop the horse nad the effect of causing the animal to turn away from the sidewalk and dash into the middle of the street. It was but a few seconds after he had taken hold of the reins that the child was safe, but the policeman did not stop until he had the horse at a standstill stamping and chafing at the bits from a mouth flecked with foam. Those who witnessed the deed spoke in the greatest praise of the officer's act. Had he not done what he did, and done it quickly, it is very probable that the child

But the big policeman is a very modest man. When asked about the runaway by a reporter of The Constitution he replied quietly: "Yes, I stopped a horse which tried to un away this afternoon.' All the rest of the story had to be obtained from spectators; and the modest officer actually attempted to hide his hand from the reporter, for it was bruised and swellen and two of the fingers were

Purchase of Cuba in Contemplation.

There is a rumor afloat in official circles that, if true, is most important. This is nothing less than that this government is about to make overtures to Spain for the purchase of Cuba. However this may be, it has long been known to the world at large that the value of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for constipation, malaria, dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney complaint and nervousness is beyond all price. A wineglassful before meals imparts a hearty relish for the food, and a corresponding dose before retiring contributes to sound repose. No medicinal stimulant on the market ever received such strong professional indorsement as the Bitters. It is a most genial tonic, affording strength to all who use it. Not only in this country, but in many foreign lands, it is an admitted specific and preventive. As a safeguard against all disease of a malarial type it is particularly valuable.

HUSBAND DENIES THE CHARGES

He Says in His Answer to Her Divorce Suit That He Was Kind and Considerate.

Judge Lumpkin and his jury gave close attention yesterday as Mrs. Nellie McDade rehearsed her sad story of domestic unhappiness in the superior court, and when the pathetic recital was completed the jury promptly returned a verdict granting the woman a total divorce from her husband, William T. McDade, whom she married May 21, 1893, and whom she charged with cruel treatment, neglect and intemperate

Mrs. McDade testified that while she was ill and unable to support herself and little child, her husband deserted her, little child, her husband deserted her, after beating her and making her life miserable. She declared she had always been a faithful and dutiful wife, discnarging her obligations as an affectionate wife should. She said that on numerous occasions he was so brutal and cruel as to render her life miserable and unhappy; that several times he had used vile and opprobious language in the presence of herself and child, and on one occasion struck her child a blow on its face with his fist, which destroyed the hearing of the ear on the s.de of the face where the blow was delivered. She testified that whenever she attempted to defend her daughter he husband would beat and abuse her beyond endurance.

Tells of Her Treatment.

Tells of Her Treatment.

"On account of his brutal conduct," said Mrs. McDade, "my life has been made miserable, and I have been wretched. Immediately after my marriage he began to drink and has since continued a habitual drunkard. For days at a time I had no food in my home save that which was given me by my freends and neighbors, and it was partly on account of this cruei treatment that I was broken in health and unable to support myself."

Mrs. McDade was positive she could no longer live with her husband, and that a reconciliation was entirely out of the question. She said neither she nor her husband was possessed of property, but that he was able as a railroad employee to make $60 per month.

McDade had previously filed h's answer and cross bill to the divorce suit of his wife, in which he denied all the allegations of cruel treatment. He said that shortly after his marriage his wife ordered him out of the house, but he afterwards made another effort to live with her and that his wife then deserted him.

I 'lid not treat her cruelly," says McDade in his petition, "and I never struck her. I was out of work frequently and on this account was not able to give my wife everything she wanted. I never struck her child, but did everything to administer to its comfort. In addition, I took eare of and supported my wife's mother and others of my wife's kinspeople who would visit at my home. My wife was of a quarrelsome, complaining disposition, and it was impossible to get along with her. I did not drink to excess and did all that I could do to take care of my wife and her family until she left me."
